Washington, April 4.—(AP)—The federal reserve board in a statement today warned member banks that unless they voluntarily complied with the request of February 7 for co-operation in restraining the use of federal reserve credit in speculation that it might adopt other methods to force compliance in order to release credit for use of trade.

Protection of the country's gold reserves, the board said, was one of its most important functions but that those reserves also "need protection primarily against wasteful absorption into the base of an unduly expanded domestic credit structure rather than against demands from abroad."

The board recalled that in its statement of February 7 it said that use of credit for speculative purposes was increasing money rates at a time of year when they usually were easy. The board's announcement today also said that in the February statement it had tried to enlist the co-operation of federal reserve banks and member banks in bringing about an orderly readjustment of the credit situation and pointed out that a decline in brokers' loans by member banks in recent weeks indicated progress in this direction.

A continued development in this direction, indicating a definite reversal of recent trends, the statement today added, would release an increasing amount of credit for the use of trade, and would lead to an easing of the money situation.

"In case the desired readjustment is not brought about by voluntary co-operation, however, the federal reserve system may adopt other methods of influencing the situation," the announcement warned.

Loans Decline, Then Advance.
For two weeks after the board issued its February statement loans to brokers and dealers by the New York Federal Reserve member banks declined $192,000,000 from a peak of $5,049,000,000. Then they started up again and by the end of March 20 increased $1,046,000,000 to a new high record of $5,793,000,000, but for the week ending March 27 they decreased $1,441,000,000.

The board reviewed the entire credit situation in its statement, pointing out that growth of bank credit in New York city had been practically confined to loans not secured by stocks and bonds, which increased about $280,000,000 between early February and the end of March.

Reserve bank credit outstanding, it said, showed a decline of $60,000,000 in part to gold imports during the same period. At the end of March the total reserve bank credits aggregated about $1,000,000,000 or $300,000,000 above the average level for the five-year period—1922-1927. This increase, the board said, was due to gold exports which began in the autumn of 1927.

The board stressed in its statement today, as it has frequently before, that its primary desire was to assure credit for trade and industry at reasonable rates.

The text of the federal reserve board statement issued in Washington today read:

Credit Trends by Districts.
In recent weeks there has been considerable growth in the volume of bank credit outstanding, chiefly in response to seasonal demands from trade and industry. Security loans by banks have shown a small increase and bank investments have declined slightly. In New York city the growth in bank credit has been practically confined to loans not secured by stocks and bonds. This class of loans by New York city banks increased by

Valdosta Woman Reports
Alleged Dry Officers
Fired at Her While on Trip in State.

Valdosta, Ga., April 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Effie Stahler, instructor in the state training school for teachers here, today reported that her car had been struck by bullets fired by men seeking "rum-runners" and said she had launched an investigation.

The incident occurred March 27, while Mrs. Stahler and Miss Mary Ellen Brown, of Miami, Fla., a student, were en route to Asheville, N. C., to visit Mrs. Stahler's relatives over the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Stahler said three tires were punctured and one light extinguished by bullets fired by three men who said they were officers "after rum-runners." Miss Brown fainted and later became hysterical, she proceeded on the trip the next day, but was in bed under a physician's care at the training school today.

The instructor said her car had passed Griffin, Ga., and was in Henry county between Griffin and Jonesboro when two men stepped into the road. As it was dusk the women feared a holdup and proceeded. A short distance ahead, three armed men opened fire. One light went out, one front tire and two rear tires went down, throwing the car cross-wise of the road.

Mrs. Stahler said about 50 cars gathered at the spot, and the men who said they were officers also came up. One of the latter, she said, remarked that he "had made a mistake and was gentleman enough to repair your damage." Mrs. Stahler refused to offer to permit search of her car, but that it was declined.

Miss Brown was taken to Griffin by passersby for medical attention and Mrs. Stahler waited with tourists until 2 a. m. for repairs on the car. She said she retained attorneys and had written a letter to the United States District Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of Atlanta. Her investigation was being handled by the state highway patrol, she said, and that the men who fired on her car were officers, but she did not know whether they were Henry county officers, federal officers or both.

The incident came to light after the women returned to Valdosta from their holiday trip.

Mrs. Stahler said she took the names of the officers who came to her car after the shooting. They were given to her as F. A. Mitchell, Hampton, Ga.; J. E. Bennett, Hampton, Ga.; A. D. Tingle, Locust Grove, Ga.; H. H. Wilson, Stockbridge, Ga.; and L. R. Davis, McDonough, Ga.

She said that Mr. Kiley, a radio dealer of Griffin, took Miss Brown there for treatment. Mrs. Stahler said she was among the party of tourists, who were taken to jail at the city of Griffin, where they were held for a roadside incident in which rum-running officers were said to have figured.

INFORMER IS JAILED FOR FALSIFYING REPORT.
Pontiac, Ill., April 4.—(AP)—Eugene Boyd Fairchild, wanted on a perjury charge, which resulted from the fatal shooting ten days ago of Mrs. Lillian D. King at Aurora by a county dry rider, was arrested at his father's home in Odell today.

Fairchild was held for Sheriff L. L. Rich, of Geneva, who said he would come here to take him to jail at Odell. Authorities arrested Fairchild after receiving a tip from Sheriff Uch that he had come here from his home at Odell, near by.

TRIAL OF MERRITT
GETS UNDER WAY

Judge Pomeroy Will Rule
Today on Effort To Present Records of Crimes
Laid to Defendant.

Reporting itself unable to reach a verdict, after nearly three hours of deliberation, the jury debating the fate of Ernest Eich, 19-year-old alleged slayer of his 18-year-old wife, Elizabeth, was locked up for the night at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night. Thursday also witnessed the beginning of another capital penalty case, that of Alvin E. Merritt, who went on trial for the second time on a charge of alleged criminal assault. This jury was dismissed for the day when court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock.

Superior Court Judge J. Ogden Persons, of Forsyth, who presided over the Eich trial, owing to the congestion of the Fulton county docket, said he would keep the jury at its deliberations all day today in the hope of obtaining a verdict.

Judge Persons made his decision to send the jury to the hotel when Foreman J. H. Holland, of East Point, said there was no probability of a verdict being reached during the night. The jury two hours previously had returned to the courtroom seeking a verdict from the court if a verdict of manslaughter could be returned and also seeking to have the testimony of Dr. F. M. Smith, coroner, physician and one of the state's chief witnesses.

Manslaughter Verdict Barred.
Judge Persons ruled that part of his charge which pertained to the verdict the jury might return, holding that it was either a case of guilty of murder, with or without a recommendation for mercy or an acquittal, asserting that inasmuch as Eich had denied firing the shot which killed his wife he could not be found guilty of manslaughter.

The testimony of Dr. Smith, who declared that Mrs. Eich was killed by a bullet wound in the back, was read to the jury. The jury then were taken out to supper and upon returning continued its deliberations until Judge Persons abandoned hope of obtaining an early verdict.

While the jury was out, Eich set alone in the courtroom under the supervision of a deputy sheriff. A few friends hovered about the corridors as did relatives of Mrs. Eich. Eich's mother, who had been at his side during the day went home when the jury did not bring in a verdict an hour after it had received the case.

Although two hours were given to both prosecution and defense for the arguments, less than a fourth of that time was consumed by Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens, who

United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, April 4.—(United News.)—Commander Richard E. Byrd's exploration venture in the south polar area has created a diplomatic situation which has reached the point where the state department has prepared a note contesting certain British claims in Antarctica, the United News learned tonight.

There is no mention in the American note of the Monroe Doctrine, but it is understood the department has contemplated taking the position President Monroe's proclamation could be made applicable to parts of Antarctica on the theory that some of the south polar region is a part of the western hemisphere.

Geographic authorities here consider the British claims in Antarctica to be on such a grand scale that practically all future discoveries which might be made in Antarctica would be subject to claim by Britain. It was this situation which prompted the department to prepare a reply when there was received from Great Britain a note, apparently innocuous, to the effect that if Commander Byrd wished to land on British territory in making his explorations, Britain would be glad for him to do so.

Would Admit Claims.
To permit this note to remain unanswered in the opinion of American diplomats, would amount to an admission of all British claims in the Antarctic. This government is expected to make a statement to an administration mentioned the proclamation of 1926 by the British imperial conference, which the United News was informed, made claim to virtually all of Antarctica then known to exist. This proclamation, made at the suggestion of Australia and in the possession of the state department, held that "British title already exists by virtue of discovery" to the following areas:

"The portion not comprised with the Falkland island dependencies.
—Enderby Land.
—Kermadec Land.
—Queen Mary Land.
—The area which lies to the west of Adelle Land and which on its discovery was claimed by the expedition in 1912 was designated Wilkes Land.
—King Edward VII Land.
—Oates Land."

It is against these all-inclusive claims, the United News was informed, that the American note will be directed.

Eich and Merritt Fight Charges in Court

Two trials which drew packed courtrooms opened at the courthouse Thursday, one to be continued today while the jury in the other resumes its deliberations after failing to agree on a verdict after discussing the evidence three hours. Above is a scene in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge E. B. Pomeroy, where Alvin E. Merritt, alleged North Side fiend, is on trial. No. 1 is Merritt's mother. No. 2 is his 19-year-old wife and No. 3 is the defendant, Merritt. Taking of testimony in his case will be resumed today. At the lower left is Superior Court Judge J. Ogden Persons, of Forsyth, who presided over the trial of Ernest Eich, alleged slayer of his 18-year-old bride of a few months. At the lower right Eich is shown sitting between his counsel. The arrow points to the youthful defendant. The Eich jury took the case shortly before 6 o'clock Thursday night but was taken to a hotel three hours later after it had been unable to reach a verdict.

"NICKY" ARNSTEIN

Bench Warrant Charges
Notorious Fugitive
With Complicity in Theater
Merger Swindle.

New York, April 4.—(AP)—Julius W. "Nicky" Arnstein and two other men were arrested today as fugitives from justice. Police said that they were wanted in Taunton, Mass., for the larceny of $32,000 from a hotel owner whom they were alleged to have swindled in a theater merger scheme.

Arnstein, who was looked under the name of Jules M. Arnold, gave his occupation as a real estate broker. The others arrested, James Thompson and Harry Fields, said they were a theatrical promoter and a theatrical manager, respectively.

They were arrested on a bench warrant issued in New Bedford, Mass., on December 20, 1928, on complaint of Thomas Kearn, of Raynham Center, Mass., the hotel owner. Police here said their information was the three interested Kearn in a theatrical merger, induced him to draw $32,000 from the bank and then left on December 5, 1928, with the money.

Detectives said they traced Thompson to Miami, Fla., and then to New York. He was arrested today on Broadway and disclosed the whereabouts of Arnstein and Fields, who were taken a short time later.

Arnstein, who was divorced in Chicago by Fanny Brice, stage comedian, in 1927, served a term in the federal penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kan., for participation in thefts of $1,500,000 in securities and was mentioned in widespread bond robberies in Wall street. Recently he charged the estate of Arnold Rothstein, slain Broadway gambler, had possession or control of $4,000,000 in stolen securities or proceeds of his sale, for the criminal receipt of which Arnstein served a penitentiary sentence.

Escobar Escapes After Losing Fight at Jimenez
But Deserted Troops Die
in Last Stand.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The main army of the Mexican revolution was smashed to pieces in one of the bloodiest battles in revolutionary history when a pursuing federal army caught up with insurgents' troop trains at La Reforma, state of Chihuahua. Federal cavalry was last reported hotly pursuing the scattered bands of a once powerful force.

Eight hundred rebel dead lay piled in three heaps beside the railroad tracks at La Reforma and 1,000 wounded were being cared for by the federales when the Associated Press correspondent, with Federal Commander Almazan's army, arrived at the battlefield.

General Almazan had not completed his check of federal casualties, which were temporarily put at 42 killed and an undetermined number of wounded. The insurgent leaders escaped, Generals Escobar and Urbalejo getting away from Jimenez in automobiles April 2.

A force of 2,100 rebels, the last to abandon Jimenez on April 2, was caught at La Reforma by federal cavalry and airplanes as destroyed railway bridges were being feverishly repaired. The work had been completed and the troop train was only a quarter of a mile short of the last repaired bridge on the road to safety and Chihuahua City when federal cavalry came up after a long chase.

Abandoned by their leaders, the insurgents made a desperate stand against the fierce charges of the federal cavalrymen under General Anacleto Lopez, forming a line at right angles to the railroad and firing from the scanty shelter of the stalled train.

Federal cavalry charged in to the very windows of the cars, where some of their dead were later found, and, equipped with light machine guns, rifles and automatics, mowed down the rebels. Every window of General Escobar's staff Pullman car was smashed by their fire.

Rebel casualties were nearly all in the infantry, the cavalry escaping on horseback.

Ten Schools To Take Part In Agnes Scott "Play Day"

ANNUAL EVENT SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

BY LOUISE M'DANIEL.
Decatur, Ga., April 4.—(Special.) The annual "Play Day" of the Agnes Scott College Athletic Association will be held at the college campus Saturday, April 6, from 2 until 6 o'clock. This has been an event of unusual interest for several years and is expected to exceed the former contest because of the enlarged number of entrants. Ten schools in the neighborhood of the college have been invited to send representatives. These institutions are Girls' High school, Washington seminary, North Avenue Presbyterian school, Woodbury Hall, Commercial High school, Fulton High school, Covington High school, Decatur High school, Marietta High school and Emory High school.

Each school that has been invited has accepted the invitation and will send six representatives and a coach. The object of the get-together is not for teamwork but for individual sportsmanship only. The individual enters the events and if she should win one of the first three places she will be awarded a badge and her school will be given a certain number of points toward the grand prize—a loving cup. Miss Charlotte Hunter, of Davidson, N. C., who is president of the Agnes Scott Athletic Association, termed the contest as "play for a sake."

One of the first events of the day will be the posture test. Each girl from each school will be judged as to her carriage, her feet and the general perfection of her body.

A second event will be the basketball tournament. The representatives from no certain school will be grouped as a team but the several teams will be picked at random from the 60 entrants. This makes the contest more individual and gives the contestants the opportunity to prove their individual knowledge of the game.

Tennis will also be one of the chief interests of the day's routine. This tournament will be carried on at the same time as the basketball engagement and will attract equally as much interest.

Unique and attractive will be the dancing contests which will take place later in the afternoon. First, there will be costume dancing in which folk dancing will figure. Second, the members of the Agnes Scott Athletic Association will join in the fun of the

FIRE CAUSES $40,000 LOSS AT THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., April 4.—(Special.)—The planning mill plant, owned by W. E. Beverly, in the city limits of Thomasville, was destroyed by fire today.

The flames spread like magic, and the property was beyond control before the fire fighting apparatus of the city fire department could reach the spot; in fact, the place was recognized as a disaster by the alarm which was transmitted to fire department headquarters.

The plant has for some time been under the management of the Lumber Company, a Pennsylvania concern, and was being operated by them.

Value of the destroyed property is variously estimated by lumber men here at from $25,000 to $40,000, exclusive of the value of such lumber as the Turned Box & Lumber Company had on hand when the conflagration occurred. They usually carried a large stock of both rough and finished material.

HOLDUP AND SLUGGING NET $70 FOR BANDITS

Bus Operator Held Up for $20; City Employee Struck, Robbed of $50.

Between $25 and $70 was obtained in a holdup and a slugging reported to police Thursday. Two negroes held up a bus driver in one instance and a city employee was slugged and robbed in a second case.

J. B. Knight, of 262 Connecticut avenue, operator of a Morningside bus, was held up early Thursday night at Morningside drive and Sherwood road by two unmasked negroes who escaped with between $15 and $20.

Knight reported that he had stopped at the end of his run and was checking his receipts preparatory to making the return trip when the bandits drove up beside him in a dilapidated touring car. One threatened him with a gun while the other secured the money. Knight said the robbery was witnessed by a woman who sat on a nearby porch but either failed to realize just what was going on or was too frightened to summon help. The case was reported by Call Officers Higgins and Cartwright and turned over to Detectives Chester and Armstrong for investigation.

H. A. Owens, of 881 Marietta street, an employee of the city sanitation department, came to police headquarters early Thursday morning to report that he had been slugged early Wednesday night at a vacant lot at Edgewood avenue and Exchange place. He was robbed of $50, he stated, after having been struck from behind as he stood in the lot after having been sent there to investigate the theft from the neighborhood of several trash cans.

When he appeared at the station it was found that he had a deep gash across the top of his head and he was sent to Grady hospital, where the wound was treated.

FEDERAL COURT AFFIRMS VERDICT OF $5,000 AWARD

Cincinnati, April 4.—(P)—A jury's verdict returned in federal district court at Memphis, Tenn., in November, 1927, which awarded $5,000 to Burnett Dickey, druggist, Greenwood, Miss., in his $100,000 alienation of affections suit against F. T. Turner, wealthy lumberman of Memphis and president of the Turner Barber Love Company Memphis, was affirmed in federal court of appeals here today.

At the initial hearing, the drugist charged that Turner had lashed gifts upon his wife, which her husband could not afford to give her, and that in April, 1925, had taken her with him on a trip through several states. The appeal was brought by Turner on the grounds that Dickey had connived with and condoned his actions.

EICH MURDER CASE JURORS LOCKED UP

spoke for the state, and M. G. Russell and Philip Welner, for the defense.

The opening argument was made by Mr. Russell, who reviewed the testimony offered by the state and commented at length on the statement of Eich.

This boy does not recall the events in the room in which his wife died, but he knows he did not kill Mrs. Eich, Russell said. "He was too dangerously wounded himself to even reach the weapon which she had in her hand. He is here to clear his name, and I know the verdict of the jury will clear it for him."

Mr. Welner reviewed the testimony of state witnesses and called specific attention to Eich's denial of the testimony of Mrs. Robert H. Christian, who had repeated statements she said she heard Eich and his wife make a few minutes before the fatal shooting of the young woman.

Stephens concluded his argument in less than half an hour, reviewing the state's testimony, and stressing the testimony of Dr. Smith and other state witnesses who had pointed out the reported fact that Mrs. Eich died of a bullet wound in her back. Mr. Stephens made no appeal for the death penalty, though in selecting the jury he had ruled off for cause all prospective jurors who had announced themselves as being opposed to capital punishment.

The taking of testimony was concluded in a little more than three hours, the state's evidence being almost entirely circumstantial and the defense confining itself to Eich's statement and an attempt to tear down the state's case in cross-examination of the witnesses.

"There was a scuffle in our room the night my wife was killed," Eich said after the state had woven its net of evidence about him. "My wife shot me first. I was very weak and all was as in darkness. I did not know my wife was dead until I woke up in the Grady hospital. Then I didn't want to live until I learned that I had been accused of killing her. It was only because I was determined to clear my name that I ever got well."

Killed at Residence.

Mrs. Eich, a bride of only a few months, was killed at the home of Eich's parents, 250 Washington street, on the night of January 23, 1935. Eich is on trial before a jury in an extra division of the Fulton superior court, presided over by Judge J. Ogden Persons, of the Forsyth circuit.

The chief evidence of the state was offered with intent to show that the bullet which killed Mrs. Eich pierced her back and therefore could not have been fired by her and that Eich previously had threatened to do his wife bodily harm.

The testimony of Mrs. Christian that I had threatened to take my wife's life is a mistake," Eich said in his statement. Mrs. Robert H. Christian, a state's witness, previously had testified that she heard Eich threaten his wife when she arrived home that night after what she said had been a visit to her mother. "Mrs. Christian misunderstood our conversation," he said.

Pistol Missing, Claim.

Eich in his brief statement from the stand admitted the pistol which killed his wife was his property, but said that it had been missing three days.

"When we entered our room after quarreling on the front porch I lay down on the bed and started to read a paper," Eich said. "My wife left the room. In a few minutes I heard her return and then I heard a shot. I was wounded three times in the stomach before I engaged in a scuffle with her. I was weak. All was in darkness. I do not know what happened after I got up out of bed. I did not wake up again until they brought me to St. Grady hospital."

The state's most important witness was Dr. F. M. Smith, coroner's physician, who testified that the bullet fatal to Mrs. Eich had pierced her back.

Atlanta Landmark Is Sold

Temple Court building—the first office building to be erected in the city—Thursday began a new chapter in its history with sale of the property to the Massell Realty Company. Substantial improvements are being contemplated for the property, which is located in the heart of the new viaduct section, at the corner of Alabama and Pryor streets. One of the proposed improvement plans may involve the disappearance of the old landmark and erection of a hotel building.

Qualifying as an expert witness, Dr. Smith said he did not think it possible that Mrs. Eich fired the shot. Powder burns were on Mrs. Eich's clothing. Dr. Smith testified on cross-examination.

Allen Kinnear, an undertaker employed by the J. Amos Dillon Company, also was an important witness for the state. He described the bullet wound in Mrs. Eich's back and other wounds.

Mrs. Christian said that Eich met his wife when she returned from a

FEDERALS SLAUGHTER INSURGENT FORCE

Reforma and Chihuahua City were estimated at about 3,000.

To Continue Extremism.

Reports from rebel headquarters at Santa Rosalia and Juarez conflicted with the dispatches from La Reforma. They described a rebel counter attack at Jimenez but this was thought to refer to events which happened several days earlier.

General Almazan gave the main body of his troops a rest at La Reforma, while his cavalry pursued rebel cavalry northward in an effort to force another battle.

General Calles declared his campaign of "extermination" would continue. The rebels were so sure that danger in the north was over that 6,000 soldiers were diverted to combat so-called religious insurgents in the states of Jalisco and Guanajuato.

An American was being held by the federalists at La Reforma charged with being a rebel aviator.

General Cardenas, on the west coast, reported to Mexico City that his infantry was entraining at La Cruz to move up to Quila, nearer Culiacan. His cavalry has already advanced, and the rebel army was reported in retreat.

At Naco, Sonora, a federal airplane was brought down by rebels and the aviators killed. An attack on the Naco base, two others which had been stationed here having returned to Sonora, Sonora, yesterday.

ARIZONA GOVERNOR PROTESTS TROOP PASSAGE.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 4.—(AP)—The governor of Arizona tonight wired a protest to Secretary of State Henry Stimson against a proposed plan to allow Mexican federal troops to cross this state from New Mexico to reinforce the Mexican federalists at Naco, Sonora. Governor Phillips stated such an action would violate the Arizona constitution and "endanger the lives of Arizona citizens."

ALMAZAN REPORTED TRAPPED AT ESCALON.

Juarez, Mexico, April 4.—(AP)—Train passengers reaching here late today and messages to Mexican rebel leaders in Juarez said tonight that General Juan Andres Almazan, federal leader who captured Jimenez, had been caught in a trap between insurgent forces in Jimenez and Escalon.

TWO FEDERAL FLIERS ARE BROUGHT DOWN.

Naco, Sonora, April 4.—(AP)—A Mexican federal bombing plane carrying two fliers was shot down in flames by rebel gun fire this morning while engaged in an air raid on General Fausto Topete's rebel troop train a short distance south of here.

The aviators, Captain Juan Gutierrez and Lieutenant Jesus Gona, were killed. The plane was on its fifth trip over the rebel camp and was flying at an altitude of between 3,000 or 4,000 feet.

It was seen to break into pieces as rebel shells hit the gasoline tank and the two bombs it was carrying exploded. The crash occurred one mile south of the federal trenches.

Bombing and counter-bombing had started the day's hostilities when the federal plane, on its first two trips, flew over the troop train and dropped four 50-pound bombs while two rebel ships hurled eight bombs on government positions.

Captain Gutierrez came to Naco from Mexico City. Lieutenant Gona was believed to be from Mexicali. The international line was closed immediately and newspapers were barred from crossing. The rebel air victory left the federalists without planes

DEFICIT OF $47,000 IS FACED BY CHEST

Appeal for Increase in Funds Made in Letters to Subscribers.

Deficit of $47,000 in the amount necessary for effective work of the 39 agencies of the Atlanta Community Chest, with a consequent impairment in their mission of child welfare and relief of needy families, is foreseen as result of failure to obtain in the campaign for public appeal last fall the minimum amount necessary to meet the budget, according to a message to Chest subscribers by Frank Miller, executive director.

The message contained an appeal for additional help, letters to subscribers reminding them that the second quarterly payment on pledges is due and containing also this paragraph:

"If we do not secure more money, the work of child and family care is bound to suffer. We are, therefore, appealing to all subscribers to do something extra—over and above what they have already subscribed. This is our sole resource in this time of need. Five dollars or more added to pledges and payment already made will meet the situation."

The letter was accompanied by a financial statement which included a forecast of the condition which will come at the end of the year. This showed a total of disbursements for the remainder of 1934 at an absolute minimum of $308,944.29 and an estimated revenue of $262,308.90. The report showed that only $37,500.00 was pledged for 1934 work and the campaign last fall, and $7,747.25 pledged as result of telephone appeals since February 5, making a total of $382,333.05 pledged. "Of this, it is estimated that $45,000 will be lost by 'shrinking' or non-payment, and $125,050.12 already has been collected and applied to the social welfare program of the Chest agencies, leaving only $212,242.93 available on collections next fall in response to the 1935 appeal."

Youth Forum.

Special musical and reading numbers will be offered at 8 o'clock tonight at the meeting of the Atlanta Youth Forum, which will be held in room 207, Chamber of Commerce building. The forum will meet again April 10 to hear Councilman R. M. Cobb speak on "How Would Our Sunday Effect the Youth of Atlanta?"

ENJOYS THE BEST HEALTH SHE HAS HAD IN 12 YEARS

Had Been in Dreadful State Ever Since Operation 9 Years Ago—Sargon Restores Her.

"Nine years ago I was operated on for gall bladder trouble. I was in the hospital six months and have been in poor health ever since. I had severe headaches and one bilious attack after another. Pains in my shoulders and back were so intense I could not lie comfortably and would have to try to sleep sitting almost straight up in bed. Many a night I would not close my eyes, and if I did close off I would awake suddenly gasping for breath, like I was going to smother."

MRS. CORA BALL.

"When I finally got on my feet I was so weak and dizzy I was almost helpless. My system was filled with poisons resulting from constipation, and my skin and the whites of my eyes were yellow. After trying all sorts of medicines with no results, I was about ready to give up when my sister persuaded me to try Sargon."

"I haven't had a pain or ache in my body since my first bottle of Sargon. I don't have any more stomach trouble or bilious attacks. My nerves are in perfect condition, the smothering spells have disappeared, and I sleep like a child. My whole system was strengthened. I am in better health than in twelve years. Sargon is worth its weight in gold."

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills drove the poisons out of my body and rid me of constipation and headaches. My skin has a good, healthy color and everybody says I am looking like a different person."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Cora Ball, Box 95, Route 4, North Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Ball is the mother of eleven children, and is highly esteemed by her friends and neighbors. She belongs to the Christian Union church. Hundreds of people are daily thronging to Jacobs' Main Store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, to hear the astonishing facts about this amazing new medicine. The Sargon man cites case after case of Sargon's wonderful powers at work: personal instances of health renewed and happiness restored. Sargon's great reputation is based on actual results; not empty promises. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

Buys Mammoth Box-Wood NURSEYMEN CLAIM IT IS 200 YEARS OLD Plant Worth $1,500 for $10

The mammoth box-wood, said by nurserymen to be fully 200 years old, brought from the mountains of Marietta, and transplanted in his yard.

Marietta, Ga., April 4.—(Special.) A boxwood two hundred years old? And yet, local nurserymen who have seen the beautiful shrub, recently transplanted in the yard of George Daniell, local jeweler, attest to its approximate age. For, they point out, boxwoods are of slow growth and the mammoth proportions of this plant indicate that it is very, very old.

The story woven around this boxwood will be of interest to all nature-lovers. It goes to show to what extent and to what trouble an enthusiastic lover of nature will go to possess such a perfect specimen.

The boxwood is over 7 feet tall and is 10 feet in diameter. It is symmetrical in shape and its perfectly formed branches sweep the ground equidistant from the base. Since being brought to Marietta, it has received ardent admiration of all; its unusual beauty captivated everyone. George Daniell tells the following story of how it came into his possession.

"I love nature. I love flowers and plants. Several years ago, while on a hunting trip to the mountains of north Georgia—about 13 miles west of Ellijay, in Pickens county, and on what is known as Tale's creek—I accidentally came across this boxwood standing in the yard of a deserted home-site. I determined then and there that some day I would have this boxwood. My companion, an employee of the state highway department, heard me express this determination and several weeks ago I received word from him that a new highway was being surveyed from Ellijay to Chatsworth; that the proposed road would run through the old home-site and if

MISS HERMANE IS EXONERATED IN FATAL CRASH

Miss Helena Hermance, of Toronto, formerly of Atlanta, has been exonerated of all blame in connection with the death in Winston-Salem, N. C., last week of James Foster, 5, who was killed when he was thrown from a car while riding with Miss Hermance, friends here were informed Thursday.

Manila charges against Miss Hermance were withdrawn following a hearing at Winston-Salem. Miss Hermance is now in Florida with her mother.

The accident occurred when a taxicab and the Hermance auto collided. The child was thrown to the pavement and almost instantly killed. Lewis Luther, taxicab driver of Greensboro, was taxed the costs for violation of traffic laws.

VIADUCT TRAFFIC LAMPS AND SEWER FUNDS APPROVED

Members of the Atlanta bond commission Thursday afternoon approved allocation of $2,000 viaduct funds for purchase of signal lamps to control traffic over the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts; set up a fund of $6,000 for extension of the Grove street storm sewer from Eighth street to about 150 feet north of Tenth; and provided another $9,500 for purchase of two two and one-half-ton trucks from sewer bond funds.

The commission withheld approval of expenditure of $36,000 for extension of the Druid Hills sanitary sewer pending a report of the sewer committee of city council and Chief of Construction Clarke Donaldson on further information which the commission wishes on the project.

The $6,000 for the Grove street project must have the approval of the mayor and council before it is finally passed.

FLORIDA LIQUOR RING BLAMED FOR KILLING

Jacksonville Sheriff's Investigation of Case Moves Swiftly to Finish.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 4.—(AP)—Developments moved swiftly tonight in the investigation into the killing here late last night of Joe Haywood, a charge of buckshot into the chest of the slain man, which authorities said was the work of one of the greatest bootlegging and murder rings in Florida.

Police took into custody 15 persons, including two women, to be held for questioning and set out again to make additional arrests.

One of the prisoners now in jail, authorities believe is the gunman who uploaded a charge of buckshot into Haywood's head as he sat in his automobile at a grade crossing, waiting for a train to pass. Frances McGlin, who was with Haywood at the time he was killed is one of the women held.

The chief object of the continued search for suspects, police said, is Dan Hyater, notorious Duval county bootlegger and believed by authorities to have been the "man behind the gun" in the killing of Haywood. The McGlin woman mentioned his name shortly after was arrested.

Raided Home.

Officers raided Hyater's home today, but found him missing. They seized a quantity of liquor, a shotgun and a number of shells, the weapons in which, they said, were marked similar to those removed from Haywood's head shortly after the killing.

Drive for Hazel in Slump, Appeal for Funds Renewed

LEANEST DAY PRODUCES ONLY $10 DONATION

Better luck for the Hazel Hughes education fund is expected today. Receipts dropped suddenly Thursday, only one $10 donation being received, and it is hoped by Hazel's friends that today will see a resumption of the steady stream of dollars which has been pouring into the fund in jumps of $75 to $100 a day.

A. M. Smith, of Smith & Guest, 10 Houston street, N. E., Thursday said he believes that Thursday's slump was "just one of those things that happen," and that he hopes the public would respond today to the appeal for funds as never before, and give the total a substantial journey toward the quota.

wood's head shortly after the killing. Miss Garland Hodges, the only occupant of Hyater's home at the time of the raid, was arrested and is being held for questioning.

Haywood was to have appeared as a witness in three liquor cases in court here today and authorities said they had the defendants in each of the cases under scrutiny.

11 WOMEN ARRESTED IN MEXICO CITY FOR PROPAGANDA

Mexico City, April 4.—(AP)—El Universal in a dispatch from Guadalajara today said 11 women were arrested by police there yesterday charged with distribution of seditious anti-government propaganda.

STATE COMMISSIONS PLAN EARLY MEETINGS

State Automobile Association Offers To Co-operate in Highway Study.

Early meetings will be held by the four commissions appointed Wednesday by Governor L. G. Hardman to conduct a study of four important state departments with a view of recommending remedial legislation. It was indicated Thursday when it was announced that Sam Tate, chairman of the commission to study the highway department, will hold a conference Friday with Governor Hardman. It also was stated that Ivan Allen, of Atlanta, chairman of the commission to investigate co-ordination of the operation of government, would confer with the governor relative to an early meeting of his board. Dr. M. L. Dugan, chairman of the commission on education, already has called a session of this commission for April 17 at Savannah. Dr. T. F. Abernethy, chairman of the health body, will return to Atlanta today and also expected to announce his plans at once.

Along with activity of the committee chairmen came a tender of co-operation with the appointment to study highways made by Goodhue Yancy, president of the Georgia State Automobile Association. Mr. Yancy issued a statement declaring that his association is ready to co-operate and also tendered the offices of the association for sessions of the commission. Mr. Yancy said his organization represents 7,000 automobile owners of the state.

nation represents 7,000 automobile owners of the state.

"Our organization during the past year has been making an intensive study not only of the highway conditions in this state, but in all the leading states in the union," he said. "We have files in our general offices here in Atlanta which contain the official reports of many state highway boards over a period of years, as well as the vast data accumulated by the federal bureau of roads. These records gathered at the expense of much time and effort we shall be glad to place at disposal of the commission."

"Also, in view of the short time which remains before the meeting of the general assembly and the further fact that the commission has no state funds at its disposal, we are placing our offices and staff at the service of the commission for any aid which they may render."

"Members of this association, who as automobile owners pay the taxes are to be constructed, are glad to see the appointment of this commission, for we believe that if the entire highway situation in this state is seen in the light of actual facts which exist in Georgia as well as in the other states of the Union, the general assembly must be moved to immediate action in speeding up our highway building program."

DR. HENRY CARTER DIES AT RESIDENCE

Prominent Surgeon Had Practiced Profession Here
for 16 Years.

Dr. Henry Grady Carter, well-known Atlanta surgeon, died Thursday night at the residence, 790 Ponce de Leon avenue, following a short illness. Dr. Carter was 37 years old and had been practicing medicine here for the past 16 years.

A native of Hall county, Dr. Carter spent his boyhood days at Gainesville before coming to Atlanta about 20 years ago. He was graduated from Emory university in medicine about 16 years ago and began the practice of medicine here on his graduation.

He was a member of the Fulton County Medical Society; the Georgia State Medical Association; the American Medical Association and was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

During the World War, Dr. Carter served as a medical officer in the United States army. He was a member of the Druid Hills Baptist church and was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the W. D. Luckie lodge. He was active in the work of the Yarnab Temple of the Shrine, of which he was a member.

He leaves his widow, who formerly was Miss Lillian Mann, of Vidalia, Ga.; and three children, Minetta and Dorothy Carter and Henry Carter, Jr.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sankey B. Carter, of Gainesville; four sisters, Mrs. E. V. Barrett, of College Park; Mrs. C. H. Armstrong, Mrs. G. P. Lyle and Mrs. Julia E. Troutt, of Atlanta; and three brothers, R. W. Evans, Floyd C. Evans and H. S. Evans.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Nam R. Greenberg Company, funeral directors.

Area Approved for Annexation

Five land lots, an area of 1,000 acres, were approved for annexation to the city of Atlanta Wednesday by the charter revision committee of city council. The Constitution artist shows above the exact territory, that bounded by the heavy black line, which this committee approved for inclusion within the Atlanta limits. The present city limits is shown by the dotted line in the lower part of the map. The new area is composed of land lots 110, 111, 112, 101 and 102. Peachtree road runs through the center of the new area, which includes the fashionable Peachtree Hills and Peachtree Heights and part of Brookwood Hills. The Seaboard Air Line Railway and Peachtree creek traverse the area. Wesley avenue is the north boundary of the new section, with the western boundary a few feet west of Woodward way and the eastern boundary approximately at Acorn street. The map shows, inside the city limits, Peachtree station and the Ansley golf course.

MASONRY MAKING NOTABLE ADVANCE IN TURK REPUBLIC

Washington, April 4.—(AP)—Development of Free Masonry in Turkey since the founding of the republic was reviewed in an address last night by Ambassador Ahmed Moustaf Bey at a meeting of the Bethesda lodge. He is a prominent and high-ranking member of the order in Turkey.

"It is evident," he said in contrasting the development of the order under the sultanate and democratic regimes, "that the period of tyrannical absolutism under a succession of sultans could not logically accommodate itself to an institution like Freemasonry."

The abolition of the monarchy and especially the separation of church and state and the emancipation of the Turkish women were aided and encouraged by Masonry, and Masons assisted greatly in the rational liberalism of Turkey, he said. The ambassador praised the work of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the president of the republic.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK PLANS CONSIDERED BY JUNIOR CHAMBER

The final luncheon meeting rally for the good health exposition and good health week which opens next Monday under auspices of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, was held Thursday noon at the Chamber of Commerce building and was marked by much enthusiasm and an enjoyable program.

After plans for the week were discussed, Miss Anita LaPierre, appearing this week on the Howard stage, sang a number of songs which the chorus from the same theater entertained with bits of dancing. Richards and Clark, singers from the Metropolitan, assisted in the merriment as did Miss Julia Maxwell, specialty dancer, and Miss Eileen Holmes, pianist. Princess Ali Mons, of Delhi,

British East India, offered magical tricks, while "Mysterious Mike" amused by "swallowing" large numbers of cigarettes.

CANDLER FIELD

THURSDAY AIR MAIL
ARRIVALS	DEPARTURES
From New York.....8:15 a. m.	To New York.....7:00 p. m.
From Chicago.....8:25 p. m.	To Chicago.....8:25 p. m.
From New Orleans.....8:30 p. m.	To New Orleans.....8:30 p. m.
From Miami.....8:30 p. m.	To Miami.....8:30 p. m.

With immediate purchase of Candler Field assured by the city and long-needed improvement work promised by the county, Atlanta's aviation activities, with a Class A airport to offer visitors and local operators, will take a great jump and will make the city's claim to the distinction of being the south's "aviation hub" something more than a geographical fact. With ownership of the field definitely settled, airmail operators and commercial fliers need hesitate no further in their plans to make investments in hangars and other equipment here.

General James E. Fitchet, chief of the United States army air corps, was a brief visitor in Atlanta this week visiting at Candler Field in a plane which he was piloting—long enough to refuel. General Fitchet was flying from Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., on official business, the nature of which was not disclosed.

Charles Adamson, Jr., of Celartown, son of the distinguished Georgia citizen of the same name, recently purchased a new Travel Air through Doug Davis, Atlanta pilot, who recently had four planes—constituting a carload—shipped here for private fliers of this vicinity. The Travel Airs included one "Eison," two of the OX-3 type and one OX-5.6. The latter was the plane ordered by Mr. Adamson, who will take his newly-acquired property to Celartown early next week.

Interstate Airlines, Inc., operators of the Atlanta-Chicago air mail route, who recently inaugurated a letter-writing test to promote interest in air mail, Thursday announced another contest which not only will provide entertainment but will pay big dividends to winners. The newest scheme of the Chicago company is a word-finding game based on the sentence: "Atlanta Has Air Mail." There are at least 100 words which can be built from letters in this sentence, according to Colonel W. G. Schauffler, Jr., general manager of the company, and Interstate wants to know what they are.

The contest is open to everybody in Atlanta, the only requirement for entrance being that each contestant must write by air mail to Contest Manager, care of Interstate Airlines, Inc., 105 West Adams street, Chicago, enclosing an air mail stamp for the return of an official entry blank. Three prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded the Atlantans developing the largest number of words and the first prize winner here will be eligible for a grand prize of $100.

Interstate Airlines are sponsoring this contest," Colonel Schauffler stated, "to promote interest in the air mail and to help Atlanta maintain its standing in the air mail poundage records of the line."

In addition to Atlanta, aviation development is going on in at least two other Georgia cities, more and more of which are becoming extremely "air-minded." The Junior Chamber of Commerce at Macon voted Thursday night to sponsor a Southeastern Aeronautical Exposition, modest after the big shows in Chicago and Detroit, to be held early in June. The Jaycees plan to have three days of festivities at which airplanes from all parts of the country will be expected to enter. At Waycross, members of the Ware county board of commissioners have ordered a wind cone and the rock for the circular marker for the Ware county airport. It also was stated that material for the field's revolving beacon would be received at an early date.

In addition to the use banks and security houses are making of the air mail to keep down charges of interstate-bearing paper, the plans service often is utilized for the transfer of currency, according to the American Air Transport Association. The Federal Reserve Bank of New Orleans received an emergency request for funds from a financial institution several hundred miles distant. Trains schedules would not have permitted the money to arrive in time for the escape tonight.

A hole cut through the floor of the jail leading to a loft between the third and fourth floors early yesterday enabled four prisoners, including H. G. Cain, reputed Pendleton gangster, to escape. The holes discovered today, apparently the work of outside accomplices, left only a plaster wall between the Edwards and freedom and this could have been disclosed by a kick. Sheriff John W. Harnas said. He believed the pair planned the money to arrive in time for the escape tonight.

Verdi Will Aid in Success Of Midnight Benefit Show

FAVORITE PIANIST TO OFFER SOLOS

One of the most important spots on the big program to be presented at Keith's Georgia theater next Monday at a midnight show for benefit of the Tallulah Falls Industrial school will be occupied by Adolph Verdi, perhaps Atlanta's favorite pianist, who has built a great popularity here during the past several years.

Mr. Verdi will be heard in several piano solos, with the assistance of the Keith Georgia orchestra. He first began his musical theatrical career here about ten years ago, when he still was in high school. He began playing with the Metropolitan theater orchestra, one of the most famous theater orchestras in the South. He now is conductor-pianist of the Georgia orchestra and his occasional solos in the overture spot on the Keith bill are looked forward to with much anticipation by Atlanta entertainment lovers.

A host of other entertainers include Koran, the mental mystic; Nelson Clifford and Marie Marion, in a comedy sketch; Jack Pepper, singer; Ginger Rogers, the personality girl; Swift Sisters and Scott, in songs and dances; Lotta Amiel; Cowan and Gray, the Mary Heade ballet; Perry Bechtel, pianist, and Al Short, master of ceremonies.

All proceeds from the midnight show will go to the Tallulah Falls Industrial school. Services of all theater officials and talent are being furnished free through courtesy of the Atlanta Federation of Musicians and the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators.

Tickets for the big show may be purchased at any theater box office for the nominal price of $1 each.

"...to regain our place on the seas won by our clipper ships a century ago..."

ACTUATED by a desire to promote the American flag on the high seas, the United States Shipping Board, by unanimous vote, has sold the United States Lines and American Merchant Lines to P.W. Chapman & Co. With the sailing of the Leviathan from New York on April 10, the first ship will be taken over by the new organization, known as the United States Lines, Inc.

We are thus turning over to private ownership eleven splendid vessels—the result of a persistent effort on the part of our Board to "take the Government out of the shipping business" on a basis that will make for the permanency of the American Merchant Marine.

The ships and the services will continue as before. The Leviathan, known the world over as the largest liner afloat, will sail as before in the regular New York-Cherbourg-Southampton service; the famous American-flag cabin ships, George Washington, America, Republic, President Harding, and President Roosevelt will continue to carry discerning passengers between New York and Ireland, England, France, and Germany. The American Banker, American Farmer, American Merchant, American Shipper, and American Trader will be available as heretofore to everyone wishing to sail or ship freight from New York direct to London.

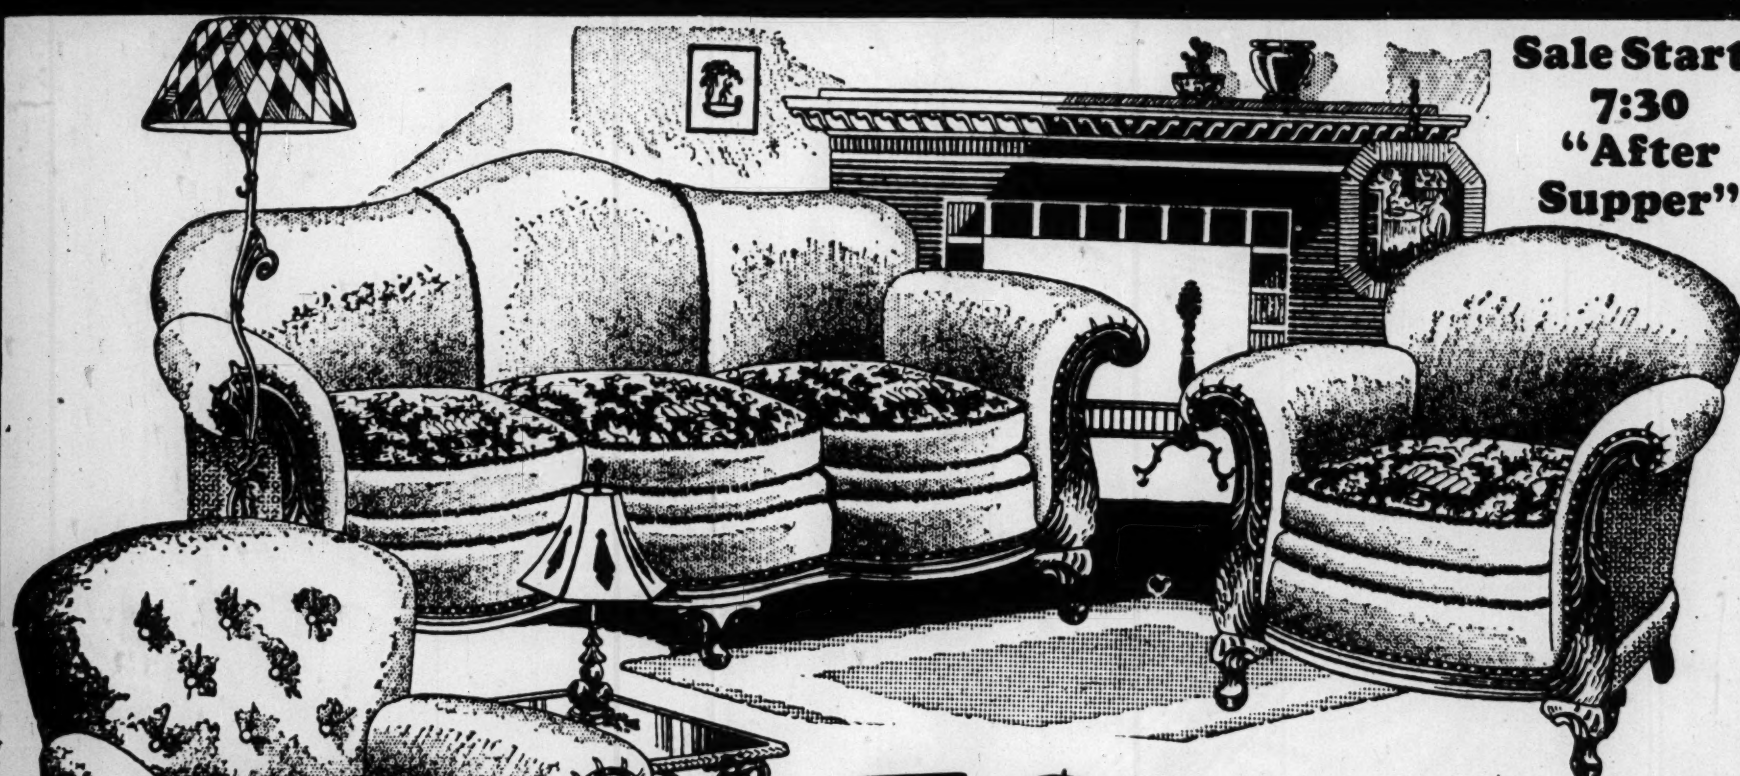

American travelers will continue to be served by the same ships' officers and crews, and an experienced organization ashore which will uphold the best traditions of the American Merchant Marine. Our Board stands ready at all times to cooperate with and assist the new owners whenever we can.

The United States Lines, Inc., will lay the keels for two super-Leviathans. Before long, additional ships will be under construction. Within a few years one of the largest and finest fleets in the world will be sailing back and forth across the Atlantic, flying the American flag.

Entrusted as we are with the future of the American Merchant Marine, we are keenly conscious of our great responsibility to every citizen of the United States. We have seen a greater number of Americans traveling every year; we realize that we must have ships that are fast—ships that are in keeping with our American standards of luxury and service at home—ships that offer a passage abroad to suit every purse. The new owners are determined to build such ships, and we call upon the American nation to see that we regain our place on the seas won by our clipper ships a century ago.

Insurance Plan for Farm Relief Measure Proposed Part of New Bill by Bledsoe

Cotton Association President Offers Idea Similar to Own as Model to House Group.

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—A proposal that the house agriculture committee incorporate in the new farm bill an insurance plan similar to that which has been used by the Staple Cotton Cooperative Association was laid before the committee today by O. F. Bledsoe, president of the organization.

Bledsoe said that a plan similar to that suggested had given the cotton farmers of his section a profit of $2,500,000 by enabling them to sell their surplus off the market in 1925-1927. Most of this sum, he said, went into the areas flooded in 1927 and was of great benefit to those farmers.

In operation, Bledsoe suggested that advisory committees should be elected by the various commodity groups to advise and confer with the federal farm board.

"Whenever in the opinion of the board, acting with the advice and assistance of the committee representing the commodity under consideration, a surplus of such commodity exists, so that the agencies are depressed more than an offset for carrying charges below the average normal level for the commodity," the plan provides, "the emergency fund shall be used to purchase the surplus at a price which will enable the commodity to be marketed at a profit."

Enter Into Contract.

"The board," he continued in outlining his program, "shall enter into an indemnity contract with cooperative associations and stabilization corporations handling the products where, by these agencies shall be insured against loss due to a decline in price, premium or discount to the extent of their advances to farmers, and all carrying charges during the period of the emergency, including interest, insurance, storage charges and loss in weight."

"The associations operating under the plan will sell a surplus pool which any grower can join with the privilege of withdrawal. In other words, need not become a member of the cooperative except for the purpose of having this surplus pool marketed under this plan unless he so desires. The associations will make advances to growers upon delivery of their products to the surplus pools at a rate based upon the current market value and insured by the board with proper differentials for grade and quality factors."

"Such part of the product as it is desired to include in the stabilization program will then be warehoused and withdrawn from the market. After the emergency period has passed and the surplus is marketed, all profits, less expenses and necessary reserves, will be returned to the growers who delivered to the surplus pool in proportion to the quantity and grade of their products."

"Loss to the associations or stabilization corporations will be prevented under the insurance of the federal farm board. For this insurance, the associations shall pay premiums based on the risk involved, which shall be paid from the profits of the operations; and from monies received as premiums the federal farm board shall set up a reserve fund to meet possible future losses, under the insurance plan."

"The federal intermediate credit banks shall be authorized to lend cooperative associations and stabilization corporations up to 97 per cent of the current interior market value on warehoused products which are insured by the federal farm board."

RUSSIAN CANAL PLAN GETS CONSIDERATION

Rivers Volga and Don May Be Connected—First Studied in 16th Century.

Stalingrad, Russia, April 4.—(AP)—The linking up of the Rivers Volga and Don by means of a canal, first considered in the 16th century, may soon be realized.

Preparations for the construction of a canal joining these waters have been going on intermittently since 1918. Survey work has been completed and the year 1930 has been fixed definitely as the date for the beginning of the excavation work. By 1935, it is expected, the canal will be in operation.

This canal will extend from Stalingrad on the Volga to Kalatch on the Don, a distance of about 65 miles. Thirty thousand persons will be engaged in its construction and it will cost about 175,000,000 rubles. (Approximately $37,500,000.)

The River Don is on a level about 50 feet higher than the Volga. This will necessitate the erection of 13 locks along 300 miles of the route between Kalatch and Rostov.

By this conjunction of the Volga and the Don and great Russian waterway will be completed. It will be possible for vessels to sail from the Baltic and Caspian seas to the Black sea, and from the Black sea to the White. In this manner Leningrad,

Clothing From Federal Pen Is Sent to Flood Sufferers

Captain Hugo Bloomberg and Salvation Army Cadets Ethel Ladlow, daughter of the chaplain at the Federal prison, and Helen Edwards, both students at the Salvation Army Officers' Training college here, prepare for shipment to the flood area clothing contributed from the federal penitentiary as one of the last incidents of the administration of John W. Snook as warden.

The last of more than 200 suits of clothing from the Atlanta Federal prison, given to the Salvation Army for flood relief as one of the last incidents of the administration of John W. Snook as warden, were packed at the army's social service center here for shipment to the flood-ravaged area of south Georgia and Alabama.

The clothing represents the custody of prisoners ranking from erring gofers and federal officials to humble moonshiners who, completing the discharge of their debt to society in the penitentiary, have preferred to carry away from its walls no souvenirs of the life before they entered.

ATTACKS VOLSTEAD ACT IN FEDERAL COURT

Hotel Proprietor Prepared to Carry Case to U. S. Supreme Court.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 4.—(AP)—A plea that the Volstead act has been automatically repealed by subsequent legislation and that in consequence there is no national prohibition enforcement law, has been made to the United States circuit court of appeals by counsel for Marie Bevington, Sioux City hotel proprietor.

The law firm of Golz, Schuyler & Brown base their appeal on the contention that congress, by passage of the Willis-Campbell act in 1921, automatically repealed the Volstead act.

The attorneys, in their appeal, argue that the Willis-Campbell act repealed all internal revenue laws of the United States applicable to intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes which previously had been repealed by the Volstead law. They contend that since the supreme court has held that passage of the national prohibition law automatically repealed this portion of the internal revenue law, the re-enactment of that law under the title Willis-Campbell act would in turn repeal the Volstead act.

It was indicated that Mrs. Bevington plans to carry the case to the supreme court if necessary.

Keen Interest Is Displayed By Exhibition Home Crowds

Indicating a spring and summer season of increased building activity, prospective home-owners Wednesday night and Thursday thronged the exhibition home of the Atlanta Realty & Construction Company, now open for public display at 826 Oakdale road.

The home was officially opened Wednesday night with several hundred prospective home-owners on hand. It was inspected by additional hundreds Thursday, many reporting that they had visited the inspection dwelling at recommendation of friends who saw the structure Wednesday night.

The home will remain open to the public daily between the hours of 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 10 o'clock at night, through Sunday, April 14. It is reached by way of Ponce de Leon avenue, being one and a half blocks north of that thoroughfare on Oakdale road.

The purpose of the exhibition is to give the public a definite idea of the vital importance of the use of only materials of the finest type in home-building, and of the additional importance of expert workmanship.

The home was built by the Atlanta Realty & Construction Company for M. M. Vancey, according to his specifications. It is completely furnished and equipped with steam heat and automatic oil-burner, electric refrigeration, electric stove and other electrical appliances, a radio, piano and numerous other built-in and appointment features making for the utmost in beauty, comfort and permanence.

S. W. Bacon, salesmanager for the Atlanta Realty & Construction Company, said that the home so perfectly represented the high standards of material and workmanship employed by his company in its better class home construction, that it was decided to demonstrate to all interested in building homes' how advantageous these factors are. Mr. Bacon added that there is a definite trend toward higher building standards in Atlanta and that his company is ideally equipped to handle this type of business.

One of the men had obtained advance information on a trip here several days ago, the authorities said, and was planning to bring the others here. AND EVERYBODY KNOWS IT

Sold one a minute on the opening day last year. I'll break the record this year. Every schoolboy knows that Metcalfe sells $3.00 straw hats for $1.99, but THIS YEAR "Met" says, "KEEP THE DOLLAR on the opening day and give me ninety-nine cents for your NEW STRAW LID—SATURDAY."

Course your ole home town merchant will tell you that these hats ain't the same grade I sold last year for $1.99, but I speak the truth when I tell you they are positively the same quality hats I sold last year for one ninety-nine, and if I hadn't bought this carload in distress (Cancelled orders) it would have been impossible for "EVEN ME" to sell them for less than $1.99.

Every shape and size for every face and head—99c—Saturday. Course you know I charge a penny extra for the bag 'cause I'm Scotch and I want to make a little on the bag. Come early and step lively—pick out your hat and pay the cashier.

Paul Waner, Pittsburgh Holdout, Signs Contract For 1929

1929 SALARY NOT REVEALED BY BUC STAR

"Big Poison" Satisfied With Contract and Expects a Big Year.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 4.—(AP)—Paul Waner, the "Big Poison" of the Pittsburgh Pirates, today ended his holdout by signing a contract with Barney Dreyfus, president of the club, after brief dickering here.

Whether the star outfielder, who had demanded $18,000 for his season's work, won out in his salary argument was not disclosed. Neither Waner nor Dreyfus would discuss the terms of the contract.

Earlier in the training season, Dreyfus had flatly rejected the $18,000 figure, countering with an offer said to be $7,000 under what Waner thought he ought to receive. It was believed the two compromised today.

Paul said after the conference that he was well satisfied with the contract and expected to have another "big season."

He left immediately for his home in Oklahoma City, announcing that he would return here tomorrow to don a uniform for the first time this spring.

Lloyd Waner joined the Pirates on the Pacific coast several weeks ago after a holdout act that had a shorter run than that of his brother, "Little Poison," is understood to have signed up for $10,000 this year.

Cronin Will Not Play In Nat's Infield

Washington, April 4.—(AP)—The last doubts as to the starting lineup for the Washington club when it opens the official league season apparently have been dissipated.

Manager Johnson is authority for the statement that Joe Cronin will not displace Jack Hayes at second base and the terrific clouting of "Red" Barnes has insured his starting in the outfield. Barnes contributed three hits in four trips to the plate yesterday, including a triple, and four preceding days.

Reading Defeats New Haven, 11 to 5

Norfolk, Va., April 4.—(AP)—First Baseman Hawks' home run with bases full was the undoing here today of the New Haven, Eastern League team, in its clash with the Reading, International league, club, the latter winning, 11 to 5. Ward, right fielder for the Pros, hit one over the fence with two on in the third inning, and his team led until the sixth when the Pennsylvanians scored seven runs, four of them on Hawks' drive over the right field fence.

Peaches Overcome Lead to Beat Cards

Ninth Inning Rally Gives Macon 7-6 Victory Over St. Louis at Macon.

Macon, Ga., April 4.—(AP)—A ninth-inning rally that netted five runs enabled the Macon Peaches of the South Atlantic league to nose out the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 6, in a fast exhibition game here today.

McCrone's double and two passes yielded by Hallahan before Manager Billy Southworth chased him filled the bases in the ninth. Then C. Moore, Macon catcher, doubled off Frankhouse to send three tallies across the plate. Two more, successive hits ended the game.

Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Louis . . . 021 000 111—6 11 3 Macon . . . 200 000 005—7 10 1 Batteries: Bell, Hallahan, Frankhouse and Jondard, Smith; Newsome and C. Moore.

The Cubs got 14 hits, bunting most of them in the second and fifth innings when they scored six runs. Riggs Stephenson hit a home run in the second inning, scoring Hack Wilson.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Chicago . . . 020 040 121—10 14 0 Houston . . . 000 000 000—0 4 1 Batteries: Blake, Bush and Grace; Lindsey, Freeze and Hoffman.

Reds Win Ragged Game From Barons.

Birmingham, Ala., April 4.—(AP)—Lose playing accounted for all the runs scored in today's exhibition game between the Cincinnati Redlegs and the Birmingham Barons, which the National league team won, 3 to 2.

Kelly at first, and Pittenger at short, were charged with the two errors against the Reds, while Pickering at third and Smith at short, accounted for one-half of the eight bingles made by the Barons. The Reds had 11 men left on base as compared with three by the Barons.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Cincinnati (N.L.) . . . 000 010 002—3 8 2 Birmingham (A.L.) . . . 000 000 000—2 5 3 Batteries: Luque, Kenner and Dixon, Sukerfirth; Weaver, Francis and Yarnan, Cooper.

Macks Win, 15 to 8; Three Homers Hit.

Greensboro, N. C., April 4.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today rapped out 18 hits and defeated Greensboro of the Piedmont league, 15 to 8. Cox, Greensboro, and Simons, Fox, Haas, Haas and Summa, Athletics, each made a home run.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Phila. (A.) . . . 101 132 412—15 18 0 Greensboro (P.L.) . . . 020 020—8 13 2 Batteries: Maltby, Jones and Cochran, Perkins; Barnes, Stirling, Smith and Brandon.

Charlotte, N. C., April 4.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pounded two Charlotte pitchers for 10 hits and 11 runs in an exhibition baseball game here today. Russell and McFadden allowed the locals seven scattered hits and a lone score. The Sox took advantage of infield boots to score six runs in the eighth inning.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Boston (A.L.) . . . 020 000 030—11 14 0 Charlotte (S.A.L.) . . . 000 000 000—1 10 1 Batteries: Russell, McFadden and Ash, Berry; Petty, West and Watts, Baker.

Pirates Nose Out Tigers, 3 to 1.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 4.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, through the fine twirling of Kremer and Dawson, defeated the Detroit Tigers of the American league, 3 to 1, in an exhibition game here today. Kremer yielded only three hits in six innings and

CLEMSON NEXT ON SCHEDULE FOR BULLDOGS

Georgia To Play Two Games in Carolina. First Slated Friday.

Athens, Ga., April 4.—Georgia's Bulldogs will go after their fifth conference victory Friday afternoon at Clemson college, South Carolina. The Red and Black crew is scheduled to make the trip through the country, leaving Athens at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Seventeen players will make the journey, along with Coach H. Bill White and Manager Allen Connolly.

Two games will be played with the Clemson crew, one Friday and one Saturday. Coach White stated Thursday night that Murrell would twirl in one of the games while Parks would take the mound in the other.

At present the Georgians are sitting on top of the Southern conference with four wins against no losses. Clemson has already fallen twice while another team from the Palmetto section, that of the state university, topped in another dual of games.

In their last workout before the Clemson set, the varsity played its first practice against the freshmen and won in a fairly close struggle without extending itself. The players taking the journey are Caruthers, Murrell, Parks and Frye, pitchers; Johnson and Day, third basemen; Chafin, shortstop; Jacobson, Herndon, Sanford and Steele, outfielders.

Tech Names 24 For Relay Games

Hal Barron, Tech track coach, held the last trials to determine his entry list for the southern relays yesterday afternoon at Grand field. In consequence Coach Alexander is just that much nearer to having his program completed.

Twenty-four names went up the hill as variety entrants, while twelve lowly freshmen were put on the list as possible starters.

That the loss of Ed Hamm, Jacket captain, has hurt the Tech chances was proven beyond doubt when but one man, George Coffey, entered the dash events, one of Ed's long suits.

While the broad jump, Hamm's big event, also had but one entry, Hicks. A change later may see the addition of Charlie Witmer in both these events. A bruised instep has put Witmer's performances on the rocks of late and his inclusion is only a possibility.

Crowd Swarms Field As Yanks Win, 13-3.

Waco, Texas, April 4.—(AP)—More than 12,000 fans, a record turnout for this city, crowded into the local Texas league park today to see the Yankees defeat the home team, 13 to 3, in eight innings. The overflow crowd got so out-of-hand in the ninth that the umpires had to call the game before Waco could take its final turn at bat, and the score reverted to the end of the eighth. Nothing was except a double by Durocher, Tony Lazzeri got two home runs and Lou Gehrig one.

Bright Leaf Loop Formed

Waycross, Ga., April 4.—The Bright Leaf Tobacco League of South Georgia will be operated strictly as an amateur baseball organization, the schedule to open on Monday, May 13, it was definitely decided at a meeting of club representatives here, M. M. Monroe, Waycross, was re-elected president of the loop, and Walter Campbell, sports editor of the Waycross Journal-Herald, was re-elected as secretary and official statistician.

Strictly amateur rating will be demanded of all players performing in the circuit, and each team will be composed altogether of "home talent" players, it was emphasized by the league officials. Each team will post a forfeit at the opening of the season, and must furnish a player roster of at least 30.

Two games will be played each week, each team playing a game at home and abroad.

Five of the original members of the Bright Leaf Tobacco league were represented at the meeting, including Douglas, Nichols, Homerville, Patterson and Waycross. Jessup, Bayley and Folsom were not represented, but they will be given a chance to enter before the final formation is completed, it was announced. Black-shaw applied for admission, having a delegation present at the meeting, and other towns have expressed a desire to enter the loop.

Spartanburg Wins Over Providence

Spartanburg, S. C., April 4.—(AP)—Mike Kelly's Spartans jumped into an early lead behind the mid-season pitching form of Juan Ekkelson here this afternoon and nosed the Providence, R. I., Grays, of the Eastern league, in an exhibition game, 4 to 3. Ekkelson, a former Providence pitcher, was pitted against Billy Evans, star Spartan hurler in last season, now with the Grays, and had the best of the argument.

Puzzlers

BY CHARLEY BARRETT. Big League Scout Writing for Central Press and The Constitution. The hidden ball trick is a great favorite among the bush league clubs. They try it on an average of about once a game and ring in all kinds of fancy variations.

When only one umpire is working a game this play is really very difficult to call properly. Most of the time the umpire is fooled just as badly as the base runner, and he must get his wits together in a hurry to save himself from an embarrassing position.

Down at Taylor, Texas, a play came up on a hidden ball trick that never was satisfactorily solved—all through under big league conditions this mixup could not have happened.

With a runner on third base play was suspended while a pinch hitter and a pinch runner entered the game. When play was resumed the pitcher fouled around the ball long enough for the runner to stray from third. Shouting to attract the umpire's attention, one third baseman leaped upon the surprised runner and both lost their footing to sprawl on the ground.

The third baseman had the runner blocked from the bag, but in the mixup he could not extract the ball out of his pocket. He was a big fellow and managed to hold the runner off until finally he wrenched out the ball to make the out.

The offensive team claimed interference by the fielder on the ground that he did not have the ball in his hand. Infielder insisted ball was in his fingers inside the pocket all the time, and that as long as the ball was in his possession he had the right to block the bag. The umpire ruled the man safe and told the team to protect the game if it cared to.

FANS TO AID TOM THEVENOW IN RECOVERING

Philadelphia Star Reported Resting as "Good as Could Be Expected."

Winter Haven, Fla., April 4.—(AP)—If Tommy Thevenow's prolonged stay in a hospital at Lakeland, where he was carried following a motorcycle accident last Tuesday night, without a note of cheer, it will not be the fault of Winter Haven fans.

The Philadelphia National league shortstop is to receive a daily token of esteem from Winter Haven fans in the form of bouquets of flowers and quantities of orange juice. The latter is considered appropriate in view of the fact that the ball player was not able to eat solid foods for at least six weeks.

Thevenow's face was badly crushed in the accident and it was necessary for attending physicians to sew his broken jaw and nose bones with silver to prevent permanent disfigurement.

The ball player's condition was reported today as being as "good as could be expected" and it was believed he would be able to have visitors Sunday.

Horton Smith May Try His Luck in British Open Tournament

Play Abroad Will Be Greatest Test

Latest Golfing Sensation Indicates He May Take Bobby Jones' Place in English Meets.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Prune picking in good old Britain is just about to start for American golfers. Way back before the war, John Bull was accustomed to ease up to the golf tee, growl once and scare the poor Colonials right off his golf course. But now the story is different.

Since 1920 the British open has been won but once by a Britisher; that was in 1923 when Arthur Havers battered through to the finish line in the lead. The Ryder and Walker, cup matches have been the same old sad story.

Now, if the Britons have a Paul Revere he should start riding immediately, for the Provincials are coming in a really big way. Robert Tyre Jones, the master of them all, is not making the pilgrimage but in his place will be another youthful sensation, Horton Smith. The big youngster, who has been teaching the teachers a few things this winter, has signified his intention of taking a little yacht trip across the lake. The Islanders should hang a light in the old church tower.

Horton Smith uses big artillery in his game of golf and it is possible that he will show John Bull a few things about his own game. That, to be sure, is pure conjecture. Horton, whose his matches, the few he has played in a British open, nor has he played in a British open, but he's got the goods.

If the Dixie youth does finally decide to take the British trip, as he now plans, his debut abroad will be watched with interest. He will be playing golf under conditions he has never faced before. He will be entering the first really big competition. It will be a severe test.

Horton, fortunately, is not the only American who will go mug-hunting in England this spring. He will be accompanied by such heavy hitters as Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel, Gene Sarazen, Al Watrous, Bill Melhorn and a few other fairly capable gold-diggers. Out of this list may be selected the British open champion and almost certainly a few of these names will figure prominently in the Ryder cup matches at Moortown on April 26-27.

Names are names and among the money-grubbers of golf the names of Hagen, Farrell et al. pack a sustained wallop but the doings of one Horton Smith will be the story of this pilgrimage. The south is interested, the nation is interested and the backers of Bobby Jones are more than interested.

SOMETHING ABOUT RULES.
Unfortunately, the Royal and Ancient game of golf is governed by a set of very definite rules. Most of us would prefer to play the game as we see fit.

Crackers Lose To Bisons, 13 to 4

heaven and earth to obtain an outfielder and now his best one is out with a bad ankle. There really isn't anyone who can gallop up the right field dump like Zoeller. The others do not approach it with anything like enthusiasm.

Art Olsen, the solemn young man, started the ball game for the Crackers. His hand is not yet recovered from an early injury and his shoulder was aching like an old set of two-wheel brakes. Yet he buzzed through five innings of baseball and finished strong, only three men facing him in the fifth.

That fourth inning was something like one of those sudden April showers. They come from a clear sky and pour like you know what. And then stop.

Good Pitching.

Leo Maxum pitched quite a ball game for the Bisons. He permitted a lone run in the first inning but for the next four he was very disappointing indeed. To the Crackers. They walked right up, took their swings and walked right back again. In four innings following the first, Leo Maxum pitched to but 13 men. One of them, Maury Aycheleay, got a scratch hit. The remaining dozen got no hits at all and lifted but two balls out of the infield. In the sixth inning the boys got to Leo for a couple of tallies and as many hits but an error got him in a hole.

It was one of those things—that ball game. The Bisons used 14 and Wilbur Good, not to be outdone, used a like number. There were 28 men used in the game. They bunched out a total of 27 hits and scored 17 runs.

The amazing thing about the hitting was that of the 27 hits only four were for extra bases and they were two-base blows. The remaining 23 hits were singles.

Olsen, working with a bad hand and shoulder, lasted the regular five innings. He took quite a bit of punishment but finished strong. C. C. (Cascara) Nemitz, followed Olsen to the hill and surrendered but a single run. He was rapped for at least one hit in each inning but kept the runs down.

Crippled Line-Up.

The Crackers started an altered line-up with Frank Haley at first base and Jack Sheehan at second. Haley played an acceptable game at first base. He is a right valuable sort of asset, in Haley. It would not be at all surprising to see him in very much in evidence this summer and in Cracker livery. He should hit about .340 and any man who can do that is not one to be kept wearing out his pants on the bench.

Leon Williams was not the only familiar figure on the hill. Billy Mullien, who helped the Mobile Bears out considerably some six years ago, took a whirl at third base. He replaced Ollie Sax, who seemed to be fairly sure of his position. He did some lively putting about and caught two Crackers at first base with a couple of great throws.

All three Cracker receivers took a try at receiving. Cliff Knox caught most of the game and was relieved by Yelle, who in turn was relieved by Augustine.

Leon Williams would have liked to remain in Atlanta for a while. He said as much. He took one look at the horizon and went running for the train. The Bisons left very hurriedly. Williams was sold to Brooklyn by Jackson and was farmed out to Jersey City. The Robins later sold him to the Bisons.

The Buffalo management extended the right hand of sympathy to Wilbur Good. The Bisons, let it be known, are also on the hunt for outfielders who can hit that baseball.

Glenna Collett Meets Miss Van Wie Today

National Women's Champion Beats Marian Turpie in Thrilling Match To Go to Finals.

BY EDDIE BRIETZ.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 4.—(AP)—Miss Glenna Collett, national women's champion, and Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago star, will meet tomorrow in the finals of the north and south women's golf tournament.

Miss Collett today noted out the plucky little Marion Turpie, of New Orleans, one up, in a thrilling match that was not decided until the 18th hole. Miss Van Wie eliminated Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., 5 and 3, in the other semi-final engagement.

Miss Turpie gave the much-titled Glenna one of the hardest battles of her brilliant career and kept on even terms with the champion all the way around the 18-hole layout. The 18th and deciding hole was a thriller. After losing the 10th and what seemed to be the match, the Dixie girl made a game comeback to win the 17th and they went to the last hole all square. The situation seemed made to order for Miss Collett. The 18th is a 433-yard hole and all morning the champion had had a decided advantage in driving.

Putt Wins It.
Both not good drives and good second shots, but on the approach Miss Turpie overran the green 10 feet, while Glenna put her third shot five feet from the cup. Miss Turpie's approach was all right, but it was useless as Miss Collett sank her 5-foot putt for a four and the match.

Breaks were an important factor in the match. On the tenth, Miss Collett's second shot, headed for a trap, struck a workman and bounded back about 10 yards from the edge of the green. On the next hole, her second shot hit a greenskeeper and the ball bounced off his foot into a trap.

The outward journey was not productive of any extraordinary golf. Glenna took a 40 to Miss Turpie's 41, but on the homeward trail the champion was forced to call on all the golfing tricks at her command to meet the dizzy pace set by the New Orleans girl.

Coming in, Miss Collett shot a 37, one over par for a 77 for the day, while Miss Turpie's 30 coming in gave her an even.

Miss Turpie took the lead on the first hole when Miss Collett trapped her second shot, but the count was evened on the second when Miss Collett outdrove the southern girl and got a par four.

The third was won by Miss Turpie and the fourth and fifth were halved, but Glenna again evened the count on the sixth with a birdie four. The girls were square at the turn as Miss Turpie won the ninth with a par four.

The tenth was halved, Miss Collett's par four gave her, the 11th, but a trapped second shot lost her the 12th. Another trap cost her the 13th. They halved the 14th, but Glenna Collett's par three won her the 15th, while Miss Turpie was taking a four. Another birdie gave the champion the 16th. Miss Van Wie had a much easier time with Miss Quier.

Brainerd Praised By Bison Mates

would be if the Brooklyn Robins should leave a couple of eager and ambitious young ball players here. The gun would backfire and the handclapping would begin.

Chance for Three

Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson is probably used to being worried. He has been in baseball quite a long time. He has so many woes that he hardly has time to attend to them. He may leave Wilbur Good as many as three players.

All of which is in the gun hanging fire. That also holds up the deal which includes Dick Wade, the former Vol, and Irish Meusel, the free agent. It holds up all the wild deals that are reported with accumulated substantiation. Nothing will be done until the Robins arrive next week. If Your Uncle Wilbert is unable to help out there will be some wild building of the market.

Nick Cullop will not be among those left here by Your Uncle Wilbert. The Crackers may, thank the newspaper ballyhoo for that. Even if Your Uncle Wilbert did not believe that Nick Cullop was a major league outfielder he would take him on back to Brooklyn.

Cullop Is Gone

Cullop has had his name in the papers. In the headlines. He was knocking the baseball about in Florida. The fans in Brooklyn heard of him. Illness took him away. The boys down in the grapefruit and four-dollar scotch belt, had to have something to write about. They wrote how much Nick Cullop's big stick was missed. Cullop returned. Nick Cullop started hitting triples with the bases full.

Brooklyn fans want to see Nick Cullop. If Your Uncle Wilbert did not take him to Flatbush there would be a raspberry to greet the club. And that would be very disheartening indeed. If some of the outfield didn't look so good the fans would remind the portly Mr. Robinson about it by asking him why he didn't have Cullop out there.

And so the portly Mr. Spiller may wave his greenbacks in vain. There is hardly a chance to take Nick Cullop away from him. He will be used in some of the games at Brooklyn. It may be that he will stick in spite of some of the experts who have him experted right out of the major leagues.

Wade Has Goods

The Buffalo players spoke very highly of Dick Wade. It seems that he beat them out of a pennant last season. Seven of the eight international league teams were bunched there in the final week of the season. Dick Wade was manning that $2000 per month at Nashville and so Jimmy Hamilton cut him loose. He was sold to Montreal. He played in just two games and it was his hitting that destroyed the hopes of the Bisons.

Wade led the Southern league in home runs last season but most of them were hit in the martin box at Nashville, where singles are doubles and pop flies home runs. Wade is a dead right-field hitter and would not hit as much in Spiller field as in Nashville. He is a fair ball player, superior, probably, to one or two now on the squad.

The Cardinals will occupy the club today and Saturday.

Swimming Record Laufer Sets New

New York, April 4.—(AP)—Another National A. A. U. junior championship fell before the speed of Walter Laufer, of the Lake Shore A. C., Chicago, in the New York A. C. pool tonight. Laufer set a new championship record of 2:13 4-8 in capturing the 200-yard free style title by five feet from Walter Spence, of Philadelphia.

It was Laufer's second championship of the tournament. He won the 100-yard free style title from Spence on Tuesday night. Spence also has accounted for two titles—the 250-yard breast stroke and the 200-yard individual medley events.

Vandy Golfers Play Tech on Saturday

East Lake Course Will Be Scene of Matches; Commodores To Bring Strong Team.

After having taken two disastrous road trips on successive week-ends, the Yellow Jacket golfers will play host this Saturday to the nubile wild-ers of Vanderbilt university at East Lake.

The Jackets have been handicapped by the loss of Watts Gunn and Joe High Williams, aces of the 1923 team, and have not been able to develop men to replace them as yet. Scott Hudson, Jr., has shown well in all the matches played this season, and is sure of a regular berth. The other post on the quartet is still being held out as a goal to several of the other candidates. Johnny Leach and Ed Swift have presented themselves as the best of the lot to date.

Vandy's Commodores are reputed to be one of the leading squads in the conference this season, and the Jackets, who are out to raise their standing to the 500 mark, are going to have tough sledding in reaching this goal.

Oglethorpe Team Leaves Today For Series in Columbus

PETRELS HAVE GOOD RECORD FOR CAMPAIGN

Two Former Pupils of Coach Anderson Now With Foxes.

BY CY BELL.

Coach Frank Anderson and 16 Oglethorpe Petrel baseball players will leave Friday morning for Columbus where the Petrels will engage the Columbus Foxes in a series of baseball games.

The first game to be played Friday afternoon and the final Saturday. The Petrels have been very successful thus far having played four games, winning two, tying one, and losing one. The Petrels took a well-earned victory from Tech, and tied the Jackets in the other game in their series the past week-end. The Petrels also split even in a series with the Atlanta crackers earlier in the season.

The Petrels last year played the Foxes in a two-game series, winning the first game rather handily, and dropping the second. Hugh Buchanan, now with the Foxes, pitched the first game last year and let the Foxes down with four hits. Hugh has been one of the leading hurlers in the Southeastern league the past two seasons. There is another former Petrel in the Foxes line-up, Jack Massey.

Vaughn, the Petrel mound ace, will do the hurling the first day, with Lawson drawing the assignment in Saturday's game. Vaughn and Lawson are two of the best college pitchers in the south.

Coach Anderson and his team will leave for Columbus Friday morning by automobile. The following players will make the trip: Manager Crouch, Captain Thompson, Vaughn, Lawson, Bird, Rabun, Holcomb, Everett, Anderson, Martin, Herrin, Wall, Kimbrell, MacLaughlin, Reynolds, Riddle and Goldin.

Coach Anderson will take the following players: Martin, Thompson, Anderson, Wall, Herrin, Campbell, Holcomb, Everett, Lawson, Vaughn, Reynolds, Goldin, Rabun, Byrd, Riddle, MacLaughlin and Manager Crouch.

A. A. C. BOXING PLAN PRAISED BY EX-CHAMP

Britton Sees Boom for Ring Game Here; Tech Stars To Don Gloves.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

That the Atlanta Athletic Club is greatly aiding the game of boxing in its promotion of monthly amateur tournaments, first of which will be held April 16, was the proclamation of "Old Man" Jack Britton, perennial flower of the cauliflower industry, who paid a visit to the A. A. C. Thursday.

Britton has been boxing for a quarter of a century and twice has been welterweight champion of the world. Possessing more than the ordinary amount of common sense, he realizes that the youth of the land should be interested in the game and, through such tournaments, interest is aroused. The tournaments are not being held with the idea of furnishing grist for the mill of professional pugilism. Boxing is a good sport, and a beneficial one, affording participants as much pleasure as any other game.

With this in mind, Scott Hudson, president of the athletic club, and Jay Jarvis, boxing instructor, put their heads together. When they came out of the huddle they had set April 16 as the date for the first of several monthly tournaments to be held, open to any amateur in the state.

A call was immediately sent out for boxers and every day, around 5 o'clock, a dozen young fellows report to Jarvis at the club for work. But that isn't enough. Jarvis is informed me Thursday that he needs more. The more he gets, the more he will like it. It has been rumored that a Georgia Tech gridiron great, Stumpy Thomason, Jim Brooke and Vance Maree, will enter the first tournament being promoted under A. A. C. rules—provided they are allowed to do so by the Southern Conference. Thomason and Brooke are light heavies while Maree is very much a heavyweight.

Wrestlers are also being sought, for that will be on the program with boxing. Only two or three matmen have reported and Jarvis is quite desirous of more.

Application blanks for entrance in the tournament—which will be held in the club gymnasium, a new ring having been ordered—was available and may be secured at the athletic club on Carnegie way.

Britton was taken on an inspection tour of the clubhouse Thursday afternoon just before weighing in for his stirring bout with Ted Goodrich at the auditorium. He looked it over from top to bottom and was greatly impressed, remarking that it was one of the best equipped and most beautiful clubs he had ever entered. And traveling over the country as he does, Britton has been in a number of them.

While on his visit Britton renewed acquaintance with Jay Jarvis, an old-time ringman himself, and the two chatted for quite a while about old times.

Smith May Play In British Open

According to our own rules. We would like to use wooden tees in the fairway, dig a nice little excavation behind the ball in a trap, and use a "hand mashie" when everything else fails.

To be very frank about the matter, too many of us do play according to our own rules and those made by our opponents. Very few players will fully obey rules of the game or etiquette. Most infractions are the result of misunderstandings. With this in mind it is going to comply with the wishes of many friends and go over a few rules each day in this column.

An all golf competition starts on the tee, that would be the logical place to begin this correspondence course. Much argument is often attached to the penalty incurred when a player plays a ball from outside the markers. In match play the ball may be re-teed by the opponent and re-teed without penalty. In medal competition, if a player drives his ball from outside the limits, he shall count that stroke and then play his second stroke from the proper position on the tee. Penalty for not doing this is disqualification in medal play.

If a ball, when not in play, is knocked off a tee while addressing it, or falls off a tee, it may be re-teed without penalty; if the ball is struck when so moving no penalty shall be incurred.

The honor on the first tee shall be decided by lot and from that time on the side taking the fewer strokes on any hole shall have the honor on the next tee.

More about the rules tomorrow. Any questions will be answered by this column if the little green book gives it.

Fulton Easily Defeats Marist Nine.

In a walkaway contest Fulton easily defeated Marist, 17-3, at the Fulton ball lot yesterday. Although Fulton was easily trounced by Tech High, they experienced no difficulty with the Cadets. Perhaps the greatest weakness of the Marist team was the fact that Holt, their star twirler, was suffering from a sprained arm and was far from his usual good form.

Leftwich, of Fulton, was the leader in stick work for the day.

Score by innings: R. Fulton 333 220 130—17 Marist 000 020 000—3

Smithies Win From Tech High.

In a batting spree that consisted mainly of running up a huge score the Smithies, of Tech High, had very little trouble in administering a 17-3 lacing to the cadets from G. M. A. Although the game was called in the seventh on account of darkness, Tech High had time to run up the topheavy score, scoring ten runs in the fifth frame.

Gran Chambers, twirling for Tech High, allowed the Cadets only five hits, while the Smithies gathered in twelve during the progress of the game. Captain Whitley and Johnny Leinweber led the stick work for the Tech High nine with three and two hits respectively. Five home runs were hit, three by Tech High and two by G. M. A., thus accounting for two of their three tallies. Whitley poled out two, Hutt one, Elliott one and Grogan one.

The slaughter was greatest in the fifth when G. M. A. put in four pitchers in an effort to stem the tide and they all either walked out or were knocked out of the box except Peylar, who finished the inning and the game.

That was the feature of Thursday's round. In the other games, Tech High defeated G. M. A., 17-3. Decatur lost to Russell High, 10-7, and Fulton trimmed Marist, 17-3.

Bluebirds Upset Dope By Beating Boys' High

BY WELCH JORDAN.

Coach Flake Laird's Bluebirds, of the University School for Boys, surprised the rather confident Boys' High nine by handing them a 4-0 defeat yesterday afternoon, thus demoting the Hurricane from 1,000 to a mere 500 average. The fielding of the U. S. B. lads was good in spite of the four errors chalked up against them. If they had not backed up their pitcher, Reuben Tucker, in superb fashion the score would have been a different story.

Several base pilfering expeditions by the cohorts of Coach Laird were nipped in the bud by the great team of Theodosian, catcher, to Carpenter, at second. They worked like magic on the base stealers. Twice the bases were loaded in the sixth and the seventh but old Tuba Tucker and his infield pulled through without letting the Boys' High threats cross the plate. In the sixth Tucker struck out Kennedy on three pitched balls the bases being full at the time.

Methvin, on the mound for Boys' High in the first seven innings, struck out seven men and walked only two. Matthews, Boys' High's all-around player starred at right field, first base, and pitcher, and poled out a long double to left field in the sixth. U. S. B. victory was somewhat of an upset especially with Nix, stellar fielder and batter, out of the lineup on account of an ankle injury sustained in the Decatur game last Tuesday.

The game was close until the eighth frame when Kendrick tripled and was brought in by Theodosian's two-sacker. Jacobson followed up with the last and deciding hit of the game, which brought in Theodosian. In the ninth it was three up and three down for Boys' High.

Russell High Beats Decatur Team.

In the second series of games in the top league pennant scramble, Russell High, of East Point, came back from their defeat at the hands of Tech High last Tuesday and handed the Decatur High nine a neat 10-7 trimming in nine innings of good baseball. Russell High looked like a transformed team and easily outclassed the Decatur team which was its weak offensive although on defense they were strong.

Johnson, the Russell Maroon center fielder, was the star of the contest, making two hits and snagging a couple of mean flies in the garden. For Decatur McGee and Anderson were the best, securing two hits each and putting up a good fight on the defense. Stillwell, East Point hurler, struck out nine men.

East Point had the game clinched until the ninth when Decatur pulled a grand rally and threw a big scare into the Russell crowd by running up four runs in rapid succession. However, a seven-run lead was too much to over-

LEO DUROCHER

With Mark Koenig transferred to the third base position, the regular shortstop for the New York Yankees this year will be Leo Durocher, who played sensational ball when called upon last season. Lyn Lary, the high-priced rookie from the Oakland coast league club, will be used for utility duty.

This is Manager Huggins' plan for the start of the campaign after watching Durocher perform during the training season.

Cavaliers Lose, 9-3.

Charlottesville, Va., April 4.—(AP)—Yale opened its baseball season here this afternoon by defeating the University of Virginia, 9 to 3, in a seven-inning game marked chiefly by ragged playing. Virginia got two home runs, but this was offset by seven Cavalier errors which aided Yale materially. Darkness and rain ended the game in the seventh.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Yale 110 412 0—9 9 3 Virginia 001 010 1—3 5 7 Batteries: Sawyer and Hobbs; Marshall and April.

Havre de Grace, Md., April 4.—(AP)—Herbert Hedeman, 40-year-old Australian now living in New York, jumped into the lead in C. C. Pyle's "blister brigade" today, finishing first in the 37-mile lap from Wilmington, Del., to Havre de Grace.

Hedeman covered the lap in 4:44:45 and advanced from fourth place to first in the total elapsed time standings. Paul Simpson, of Burlington, N. C., who had been the leader, finished seventeenth today and dropped back to fourth position.

Finishing in a tie for second place today with Olli Wanninen, New York Finn, John Salo, Passaic, N. J. policeman, strengthened his hold on second place. Salo and Wanninen ran the lap in 5:05:52.

Less than five minutes behind them came Ed Gardner, Seattle, Wash. Pete Gavazzi, of England, and Phil Granville, of Ontario, Canada, were tied for fifth; Arthur Newton, South Africa, seventh; M. R. McNamara, Australia, eighth; Gusto Unek, Italy, ninth, and Troy Trimble, of Bakersfield, Cal., tenth.

The runners, completing their fifth day, have covered 173 miles of the 3,400-mile trek to the Pacific coast. The field has narrowed down to fewer than 50, the number that finished the first cross-country marathon last year.

Tomorrow's lap will be to Baltimore, Md., a distance of 44 miles.

Three Burn To Death

FLAMES START AS PLANE HITS GROUND

In Crash of Airplane

Scott City, Kan., April 4.—(AP)—Three men were burned to death here this morning, when a monoplane crashed to the ground and burst into flames. The dead are: Dr. C. C. McGinnis, Scott City surgeon; Chester Riley, Scott City, a traveling salesman, and John Flournoy, of Wichita, Kan., the pilot.

Flournoy had taken the plane, belonging to Bert Schmidt, a Wichita oil operator, into the air to warm it up preparatory to starting on a fishing trip to Colorado with a party of men. After circling the city, the plane crashed and burst into flames at about 500 feet, catching fire as it struck the ground.

Schmidt and two other men, who were to have been passengers on the trip to Colorado, saw the crash. They could describe no cause for the accident, but they said Schmidt's personal pilot for several months.

Routine matters were discussed, but Mr. Dewberry declared he would adopt the major suggestions of the committee. He expressed thanks for their valuable data.

Those composing the committee were C. F. Wilkinson, of the Candler building; W. R. Beck, of the Fourth National bank; W. H. Thomas, of Palmer, Inc.; W. T. Weekley, of the Trust Company of Georgia; and Fred Shafer, secretary of the association.

HOFFMAN FOUND; TELLS STORY.

Asheville, N. C., April 4.—(AP)—Alfred Hoffman, southern organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, located at a local hotel today, said that he was kidnapped by a group of between 25 and 30 men at about 10:30 o'clock last night, escorted to a point outside of Elizabethton, Tenn., and that a number of shots were fired by the men as they left.

Hoffman said a number of men led him out of an Elizabethton hotel, forced him at the point of pistols to enter a strange automobile and then drove him out of the city. He admitted that the leaders got his baggage from the hotel, forcibly took his automobile keys from his pocket and drove his car along. There were six cars loaded with men in the party of kidnapers, he said, and when they reached a point some distance from Elizabethton the procession stopped, he was put in his own car and warned to leave the vicinity and remain away.

McGRADY SAYS HE WAS NOT HURT.

Bristol, Va., April 4.—(AP)—Edward F. McGrady, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, said tonight that he had suffered no injury in being seized and forced to leave Elizabethton.

McGrady said he went to Elizabethton after the A. F. of L. had been notified that a revised wage scale to which the Bemberg and Glantzoff plants and the workers agreed, had not gone into effect.

McGrady said he established contacts between representatives of the employees and Harry Schultz, employment manager of the plant, and that Mr. Schultz had promised that the revised wage scale would immediately go into effect. The negotiations, he declared, had progressed to such an extent that he had planned to leave Friday afternoon for Washington.

100 DISTILLERIES RAIDED IN MONTH IN NORTH GEORGIA

One hundred illicit distilleries and 72 stills were destroyed by agents of the north Georgia division of the prohibition enforcement department during March, according to the monthly report of Howard P. Wright, head of the department.

The report shows that 1,610 gallons of whiskey and 132,550 gallons of "still" beer were confiscated and that 15 automobiles were captured, value of the cars being estimated at $4,053. Property seized and destroyed during the month amounted to $29,500.55. A total of 57 prosecutions were recommended in federal court, and 37 in state court.

HUNT FOR LOST FLIERS

CONDUCTED BY RUNNERS

Four Aviators Most Likely To Be Found by Natives, Officials Say.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 4.—(AP)—Australians look to native runners as offering the greatest prospect of finding Captain Kingsford-Smith and his three flying companions of the South-east Cross, missing somewhere east of Wyndham since last Sunday.

It is feared that airplanes now engaged in the search for the men have little chance of sighting the missing men in the wild country where they are supposed to be lost, particularly if the rain persists.

The runners are capable of covering about 50 miles a day and are able to go where white men scarcely could penetrate. They have, too, a cunning means of transmitting news by signals which might be invaluable in their quest.

Nevertheless, the search by planes is to be continued, weather permitting. Five machines had made preparations to start today looking for the four men. One of them was to carry a doctor and all food and medical supplies.

Meanwhile it was assumed Captain Kingsford-Smith and his companions, if not injured in landing and able to get food—and barring other contingencies—were trying to reach civilization. Kingsford-Smith has some knowledge of the country and the party had charts and navigation instruments. They also possessed pistols with a supply of ammunition, enabling them to kill game for food if they encountered any.

It is feared, however, there may be some danger from natives, many of whom are savages. In such a case they might have to fight for their lives.

KIDNAPERS OF LABOR LEADERS ARE ARRESTED

Elizabethton, Tenn., April 4.—(AP)—Four men, C. D. Meadows, an insurance agent; J. T. Tollinger, foreman of the American Bemberg plant; A. A. Hale, president of the Southern Furniture Manufacturing Company, and Nat Perry, were arrested today as a result of the alleged kidnapping from a hotel here this morning of Edward McGrady, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and Alfred Hoffman, southern organizer of the United Textile Workers of America.

The men were released on bonds of $1,000 each to await preliminary hearing on charges of kidnapping and felonious assault.

An attempt to kidnap John C. Penix, county organizer for the American Federation of Labor, also was reported today. Penix reported to officials here that he was awakened by pounding on the door of his home shortly after 3 o'clock this morning and when he answered the summons, was seized by three men who threw a cloth about his head and attempted to force him to an automobile. Penix said his sister, awakened by the disturbance, ran to the door with a pistol and opened fire on the men, who released him and fled in their automobiles.

According to information furnished by Odell Grindstaff, a taxi driver, Hoffman and McGrady were taken from their hotel by a group of men who drove up in eight cars. It was reported later that Hoffman had been heard from in Asheville, N. C., and McGrady had been recovered from the hands of the kidnappers.

No word has been received from McGrady, according to J. M. Moreland, county sheriff.

GREEN PROTESTS TO TENN. GOVERNOR.

Washington, April 4.—(AP)—Emphatic protest to Governor Henry H. Hootch, of Tennessee, was made tonight by President Green, of the American Federation of Labor, against what he called the "outrage" at Elizabethton, Tenn., in the alleged kidnapping of Edward F. McGrady, legislative representative of the A. F. of L. at Washington and Alfred Hoffman, a representative of the United Textile Workers of America.

The federation president called upon Mr. Hootch as governor "to bring these criminals to justice and to extend protection to the lives and persons of Mr. McGrady and Mr. Hoffman." He said he was planning to return to Tennessee for the purpose of completing the peaceful mission upon which I had been sent, and asked that the governor advise him if he would guarantee Mr. McGrady protection.

If necessary I will visit Elizabethton as a challenge to this gunman lawlessness," said Mr. Green, in a formal statement.

Atlantans Urged

To Aid Campaign

To Clean Up City

"Cleanup and Paintup Week" is everybody's business, says Mrs. Adeline M. Swagerty, chairman, and not the sole responsibility of the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the movement this year.

"The spirit of 'Cleanup and Paintup Week' must be individual before it can become civic," says Mrs. Swagerty, "but pride in appearance is not the only motive for an annual civic cleanup and painting. Health and fire-prevention are two important results of a thorough cleanup campaign. Dirt and filth harbor and breed disease, often furnishing the nucleus of an epidemic. Scarlet fever and diphtheria germs settle themselves in dark and filthy places and rubbish and tin cans offer breeding places for mosquitoes and flies, a hiding place for rats and mice and other disease-carriers.

"One unclean backyard or a stagnant pool may become the starting point of an epidemic that will sweep the city health and sanitary departments have not the men nor the resources to cleanup all the vacant lots and alleys where filth has accumulated, so it becomes the responsibility of individuals to hunt out these places and see that they are cleaned up at this season of the year.

"Another result of cleaning-up and painting-up is in the lessening of fire hazards, since many fires are known to be the result of an accumulation of rubbish, waste and inflammable material in home, business house or factory. A lighted match or a cigarette tossed into such places may result in a million-dollar loss. Rats also are known to be industrious firebrands, and rats thrive only in dark and dirty places.

"Let's make this an individual matter," says Mrs. Swagerty, "and each and every man, woman and child do some thing toward making Atlanta a cleaner and more beautiful and more beautiful city before the grand opera season arrives."

Cleanup and Paintup Week is set for April 15 to 21 and window cards, windshield stickers and seals for letters will be furnished to those who will use them before or during Cleanup Week at the woman's division office, 604 Chamber of Commerce building, phone Walnut 0845.

Head of White Band Says Fraternal Order Not Backing Flanders

W. J. Simmons, head of the White Band, a fraternal order, declared Thursday that the organization is not supporting George Fred Flanders.

Simmons explained that the order is non-political and is taking no part in the controversy over control of the republican party in Georgia. The statement, he said, was in refutation of a statement in an advertisement that the White Band has been fostering Flanders' candidacy.

NATIONALIST FORCES BEAT CHINESE REBELS

Rebellious Army Collapses Before Advancing Government Troops.

Hankow, China, April 4.—(AP)—The nationalist government was victorious today in its first serious clash with rebellion in the provinces. Wuhan armies, led by chief of the Kwangsi military group, collapsed before they even had begun to defend Hankow and are retreating all along the line. Martial law has been declared in the city.

This result of the recent hostilities seemed inevitable when General Fank Yu-Shiang, who held the balance of power between the rival armies, remained sitting on the fence and Hupeh generals declared their neutrality in the quarrel between the Nationalist government and the Kwangsi party.

The final disaster for the Kwangsi armies came today, when the Cantonese general commanding the seventh Wuhan division went over to the Nationalist line through which the government forces were pouring in tonight.

Nanking troops are expected speedily to reach Hankow as the whole of the Wuhan forces are retreating in confusion. Panic prevails in Hankow and its neighborhood. Thousands of Chinese civilians are pouring into the concession area which has been barricaded to exclude defeated and demoralized Kwangsi troops.

Miss Rumbough Addresses Meet Of Girl Scout Leaders Group

One of the most interesting social events on the Girl Scout calendar this week was the dinner meeting of the Leaders Association at 5:30 o'clock yesterday in the private dining room of the Frances-Virginia tea room. Mrs. Isabelle Clarke Morrison, chairman of the association, presiding. The table, set for groups of six, were attractive with places of spring blossoms and each place was marked with a hand-painted card of iris, daffodils and violets. At the speaker's table were Mrs. Morrison, Miss Florence Perkins, secretary; Mrs. William Talley, Girl Scout director, and the guest speaker of the evening, Miss Constance Rumbough, of the Y. W. C. A. staff, who is just recently returned from service in Hahn, Manchuria, and Wilho, Russia. She spoke of her work with the white Russian girls, while she started the first Girl Scout troop. A group of songs showed the charm of the Russian folk tunes, and the leaders were also shown many pictures of activities of the girls in these countries. Miss Rumbough wore the officer's uniform with Polish pins. A city-wide rally of Girl Scouts was planned by the association, to be in the form of an evening campfire program given in a city park the second week in May as a culmination of the spring activities of the troops. The program will be given by the girls and will show the resolution of the campfire from the cave man to the present day; tracing it through the customs of the pilgrims, Indians, gypsies, forty-niners and to the present-day camping customs of the Girl Scouts in their summer camps. A training course for Girl Scout leaders (those now with troops and any other persons interested in the work of the organization) will be held the last week in April through the first week in May, at the Y. W. C. A. Information concerning the training course may be had from Girl Scout headquarters, Walnut 0040, 614 Chamber of Commerce building.

Miss Weil and Morris Hirsch Wed at Birmingham Ceremony

Birmingham, Ala., April 4.—Impressively solemnized in the presence of a representative assemblage of relatives and friends, the marriage of Miss Julia Weil, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Weil, and Morris Hirsch, of Atlanta, took place Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Tutwiler hotel.

The marriage vows were read by Dr. Morton Newfield. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Ike Saks sang a group of nuptial songs. A program of impressive music was rendered during the ceremony by Miss Regina Marx. Members of the wedding party passed down an aisle marked by white satin ribbons and formed an effective group before the altar. On either side of the altar were groups of candelabra, which alternated with silver standards filled with Easter lilies and white snapdragons. Garlands of amaranth festooned the walls and wall vases were filled with spring flowers, tulips, snapdragons and Easter lilies.

Bridal Party. The bridesmaids were exquisite figures in frocks of point d'esprit, in all colors of the rainbow. The gowns were fashioned with deep bertha and long, fitted bodice. The skirt, made with uneven hemlines, tapered on each side and fell to the floor in the back. The first two maids wore pink; the second, blue, and the maid of honor, Miss Aileen Freitag, of Atlanta, was costumed in yellow. The matron of honor, Mrs. Leonard Haas, of Atlanta, sister of the groom, wore a stunning frock of chartreuse green. The maids were Miss Peggy Hirsch, of Atlanta; Miss Melan Deane, of Atlanta; Miss Wilzin, of New Orleans; and Miss Hattie Hazel Wolf, of Birmingham. All the attendants carried arm bouquets of shaded sweet peas in pastel colors, contrasting with the gowns. Little Marie Herzfeld, flower girl, was a dainty figure in ivory point d'esprit, with skirt formed of tiny ruffles. A boy of pink ribbon was fastened at the back and fell in streamers to hem.

Beautiful Bride. The lovely bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was charming in her bridal gown of white wedding-ring satin. The long fitted bodice extended below the waist, tapering into the wide ruffles of tulle which formed the skirt. A yoke of chiffon was elaborately beaded in seed pearls and long, tight sleeves extended over the hand. Long tulle veil was fastened to a Juliet cap of rose-point lace, which by been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day, and a small cauchon of orange blossoms was fastened at the back of the cap, and she carried a white satin Bible, with a spray of orchids.

Sidney Smith, of Atlanta, was best man for Mr. Hirsch and the groomsmen included Stanley Erdreich, Bennett Rich, Herbert Hafter and Walter Levy, of Birmingham; Max Nussbaum, Henry Hirsch, Leonard Haas, of Atlanta, and Julius Schlos, of Baltimore.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weil received her guests wearing a costume of black chiffon, embroidered in metal-leaf flowers. Her courage was of orchids. Mrs. M. L. Hirsch, mother of the groom, was a distinguished figure in cream lace, with a corsage bouquet of orchids.

An immense white cake, beautifully embossed, formed the central motif of the bride's table, the cake garlanded with hot-house smilax, centered with lilies of the valley and pastel shades of sweet peas. Multi-colored electric lights glowed on the table, and mint and bon bons, in shape of flowers, embossed with pastel colors, added to effectiveness of appointments. The host and hostess and members of the wedding party stood between two tall silver standards, which were filled with Easter lilies and white snapdragons.

Mr. Hirsch and his bride left for their wedding trip to Cuba, Panama and Guatemala. They will be at home upon their return in Atlanta.

The marriage was one of wide interest in many southern cities and representatives of Atlanta, New Orleans and Memphis society were present at the wedding. The bride, who has been a popular member of Birmingham society throughout her school days, received her education at Glen Eden, in Stamford, Conn. Mr. Hirsch was educated at the University of Georgia and makes his home in Atlanta, where he and his bride will live. He comes of an interesting Georgia family which has figured prominently in the history of the state.

Out-of-Town Guests. Among the out-of-town guests who were noted at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hirsch, M. Hirsch, Mrs. Pauline Hirsch, Mrs. S. A. Fort McPherson Personnel Changes With Army Orders

Fort McPherson, April 4.—A recent edition of the Army and Navy Journal contained orders from the war department which will cause the departure of two popular couples who are members of the garrison personnel. Captain and Mrs. Samuel C. Harrison and Captain and Mrs. Rufus A. Parsons. Captain and Mrs. Harrison will go to Fort Benning, where Captain Harrison will be a member of the field officers' class for the next season. During their tour at the post for the past three years both Captain and Mrs. Harrison have endeavored themselves to the members of the military personnel and they have a number of friends who regret their departure. Captain Harrison, who served with the American army in France during the World War with the rank of colonel, is one of the most efficient officers at the post and is in command of the headquarters company of the 22nd Infantry. Both Captain and Mrs. Harrison have lent themselves readily to promote the entertainments of the enlisted personnel of the regiment and the annual Christmas tree and frolic given each Yuletide by the headquarters company is an outstanding event of the year, due to the deep interest and untiring efforts of Captain and Mrs. Harrison. Captain and Mrs. Harrison will go on leave in the late summer and plan a tour of Florida with brief stops at Miami and Jacksonville to visit relatives before going to the infantry school.

Captain and Mrs. Rufus Parsons have received orders taking them to Fort Leonard Wood, formerly Camp Meade, Mo., where Captain Parsons will attend the tank school early in September. Captain and Mrs. Parsons have added much to the social life of the garrison and the military personnel will miss them exceedingly. Mrs. Parsons, who is a talented actress, was chiefly responsible for the brilliant success of the play, "Captain Appleby," recently presented by the Fort McPherson Dramatic Club. By her attractive personality and gracious charm she has won many friends in the army group. Captain Parsons, who has been an officer on duty with the service company of the 22nd Infantry and a member of the Fort McPherson polo squad, will remain at the garrison with Mrs. Parsons until late August, when they will go to Fort Leonard Wood in time for the opening of the tank school.

Captain and Mrs. Ralph E. Powell entertained the members of their bridge club at an informal evening party at their quarters at the garrison Thursday. Spring flowers in tall jars on mantels and tables were effectively arranged. The guests included Mrs. Simeon J. Seals, Captain and Mrs. Charles Core Gans, Captain and Mrs. Robert Joerg, Jr., Lieutenant and Mrs. F. del. Comfort, Lieutenant and Mrs. A. M. Parsons and Lieutenant and Mrs. I. H. Joffe.

The Fort McPherson Officers' Club will entertain this evening at their club rooms in honor of Miss Virginia Charlotte Fiske and Lieutenant Thomas Sherman Timberman, whose engagement was recently announced by Miss Fiske's parents, Brigadier General Harold B. Fiske and Mrs. Fiske. Receiving the guests will be General Abraham G. Lott, the president of the club; and Mrs. Lott, Miss Fiske, Lieutenant Timberman and Lieutenant Edward H. McDaniel.

Preceding the hop, General and Mrs. Lott will entertain at dinner at their quarters in the garrison in honor of Miss Fiske and Lieutenant Timberman. Covers will be placed for a number of the junior set of the garrison.

Major and Mrs. Ward E. Duvall will entertain the same evening at a hop supper at their quarters, their guests to number 20 members of the military contingent.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Robert Moore will be hosts Friday evening, honoring their father, R. S. Moore, of Oklahoma, who arrived this week for an extended visit at the garrison.

Mrs. Rushton Honors The Misses Rushton. Mrs. W. W. Rushton honored her two little daughters, Polly and Ella Wight Rushton, at her home on Ivy road, at an Easter egg hunt recently.

Each little guest was presented with a colored basket tied with tulle. Little Miss Lucius Peoples found the gold egg, and was presented a pink wooden wagon filled with ducks, rabbits and chickens. Little Miss Laitue Mizel received a similar prize for finding the most eggs. For pinning the tie on the duck Miss Glenn Lockridge received a green and yellow duck.

'Women in the Campaign' Shows Close-Ups by Mrs. Richardson.

The April issue of Harper's Magazine carries an article entitled "Women in the Campaign," revealing close-ups of feminine political behavior, written by Anna Steese Richardson, that notable feminine leader in republican affairs, and contributor to monthly publications, who is so well known and so highly esteemed by Atlantans, who have met her here, that the story is well worth commending upon. Leaders of "Women in the Campaign" and particularly southern readers, may be interested in the following item in a letter from Mrs. Richardson, which was addressed to the editor of Harper's, and based on her observations during a past election southern trip. She says:

"To my amazement (I might say horror) I learned that southern women as a class, urban and rural, actually believe that Mr. Hoover can and will enforce the prohibition laws. They were so told during the campaign by political and church leaders and by representatives of the Anti-Saloon League. When I tried to explain the limited powers of the president in all law enforcement they looked at me with the patient, pitying air of women completely enslaved by church and tradition. I had heard of southern ignorance but direct, close contact with it really appalled me."

Woman's Contribution.

The woman's contribution to the campaign represented quantity rather than quality, says Mrs. Richardson. "They raised the voting score of the nation but not the standard of campaign methods. They worked up what men term 'volume of business,' but they lowered rather than raised the ethics of politics. The women who badly brought the religious issue to the fore were the non-political, home-staying women, nice wives and mothers who run clubs and parent-teacher associations and civic leagues—women who have been bombarding congress to bring about peace, good will and treaties among all nations. And the clergymen who preached politics and personalities in their pulpits would not have dared to do so had they not been sure that women would approve. For it is not women who fill church pews, raise the salaries of ministers and mend the parsonage roof? Admitting that men politicians of a certain type in certain sections of the country may have welcomed the religious issue, they never would have instigated it. The least astute of politicians recognized it as dynamic. But women, tripping in lightly and blithely where politicians feared to tread. They not only injected a religious issue into the campaign but they raised it with prohibition, to a major position, completely ignoring the possible effect of such action upon their candidate.

"Unquestionably these statements will draw protests from women in certain groups. Every woman who voted for what she believed would be a 'dry administration' or against 'papal control of the United States,' and every woman who registered a vote against religious intolerance will insist that her political standards were the highest and her ballot was an expression of firm conviction. No doubt what these ladies say is true, but what of the methods used by women in both the major political parties to elect their candidates in whose principles and policies they believed so thoroughly? To every voter a candidate represents an ideal, a principle; but elections are won or lost on political methods, and in these practices women did not make an enviable record. They injected into the campaign little of the idealism which their leaders have insisted would be forthcoming when women entered politics. In this the first campaign in which women participated actively, they demonstrated their belief that the end justified the means. Their candidate must win at any cost. The politically-minded woman should shoulder to-shoulder with the politically-minded man and adopt his methods in campaigning. The emotional woman ran true to form. In all her political practices she remained a club woman, a member of the W. C. T. U., or the Ladies Aid Society, according to her strongest affiliation. In every group women reverted to their social type. But the mass of women voters, volunteers, self-appointed crusaders with some sort of social or organized following, prone to themselves undisciplined individualists; they blazed their own trails and, scorning the warnings of their party leaders, talked the issues dearest to their hearts, religious control or religious intolerance, law enforcement or freedom for the individual, Tammany corruption or oil scandals."

Whispering Campaign.

In discussing the whispering campaign, Mrs. Richardson states: "Much has been said about the whispering campaign, but as I look back on it I can feel that women whispered. The majority of their statement may have started with 'Have you heard?' or 'They say,' but these phrases were not whispered. They were made in tones that all the world might hear. At political headquarters in the room, held by clerks and secretaries, looked mysterious and seemed to be burdened with important information which could be communicated only to the highest official barbed in the innermost offices. Women trumpeted their convictions to the world at large. Given their first real opportunity to leave their mark on a great political campaign, the women left a murky smudge which will never be erased from the history of politics in this country. Women cannot escape either the onus or the shame for certain things which happened during the campaign. I question whether they seek escape. Rather they glory in what they term their independence of party instructions, and methods. And this goes for the women in all the parties, republican, democratic and socialist. To fall back on the vernacular, they knew their onions, otherwise their own sex, and with fine scorn of political precedents they proceeded to do their stuff."

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

LIGHTFOOT'S GROWING CROWD

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Nature gives and Nature takes And few indeed are her mistakes.

—Peter Rabbit.

"If those are your new antlers just starting, they don't look right to me," repeated Peter Rabbit to Lightfoot the Deer.

"Why not?" inquired Lightfoot.

"Those things look soft. I don't know as they are, but they look soft," said Peter. "Your old antlers were hard and the points were polished and sharp. These things that you say are your new antlers just sprouting are rounded and knobby looking, and they look to me as if they are covered with hair."

"All of which is very true," said Lightfoot.

"Then how can they be all right?" demanded Peter.

"Let me ask you a question or two," replied Lightfoot.

"All right, go ahead," said Peter.

"Just now would you expect those antlers to grow?" began Lightfoot.

"Why—why?" hesitated Peter.

"Why—the way a claw or toenail or tooth grows."

Lightfoot chuckled. "Wrong, Peter, wrong," said he. "Antlers do not grow that way. They grow exactly as you see these of mine growing now. They grow just as a plant would grow. They grow so fast that you can almost see them grow. Of course, you cannot really see them grow, but if you'll come around two or three days from now I'll venture to say that you'll see a difference. You'll know right away that they have been growing. So you thought they must be hard when they started growing, did you?"

Peter nodded. "Why should I think anything else?" he demanded. "If I did not run about and dig, so as to wear my toenails off, they would grow to be too long. They are growing all the time, but there is nothing soft about them. They just push out from my toes. I suppose that your antlers pushed out from your head in the same manner."

Lightfoot sighed. "I guess it would save me a lot of worry if they did," said he.

"How so?" asked Peter.

"Why, if they were hard that way there wouldn't be anything to worry about," explained Lightfoot.

"But what is there to worry about now?" asked Peter.

"Everything," replied Lightfoot.

"Lots of things can happen to them when they are soft," said Peter.

"Certainly they are soft," replied Lightfoot. "They are soft and tender. If anything should happen to them now it would spoil them for the future. I tell you what it is, Peter Rabbit, growing a set of antlers is pretty serious work. Yes, sir, it is pretty serious work. I'm so afraid

HOOPER ENVIES MAN HIS MISSION ON CHINESE TASK

Washington, April 4.—(AP)—A tale of difficult work to be done half-way around the world touched a responsive chord today in President Hoover, who for many years followed the lure of such an occupation.

John J. Mantell, former vice president of the Erie railroad, called at the White House to tell the president of his forthcoming trip to China, where, at the request of the Chinese government, he will reorganize and modernize the country's transportation system.

Mr. Hoover's engineering instincts came to the fore and C. B. Slesinger, of Virginia, who presented Mr. Mantell, said the president told the railroad man that he envied him his mission.

GENERAL BOOTH IS FAILING FAST, DAUGHTER SAYS

London, April 4.—(AP)—The health of General Bramwell Booth, deposed commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, is failing fast, his daughter, Catherine Booth, told the Associated Press today.

Another member of the Booth household bore out her statement and confirmed the official announcement in the current issue of war cry, that the general's progress had not been maintained during the past three or four weeks and that he was suffering from general debility. Persistent reports in army circles that he is suffering from paralysis were denied, however, approximately $275,000.

BERRY CROP FIVE MILLION QUARTS AT PLANT CITY

Plant City, Fla., April 4.—(AP)—After today's shipments of strawberries from the local f. o. b. market, the total for the 1928-29 season stood at approximately 5,121,007 quarts, 4,838,750 of which moved by rail. Growers have received approximately $1,235,750.81 for the crop, which figures a net profit of approximately half a million dollars.

This total exceeds the record season of 1922-23, when about 4,980,000 quarts moved at a gross return of about $1,063,000, for a net return of approximately $275,000.

NEW DINING ROOM CHRISTENING FEATURES OPERA WEEK

Capital City Club Restaurant
Has Been Beautifully Decorated

The christening of the Capital City Club's new dining room, remodeled and redecorated especially for the 1929 grand opera season takes place during the time that Metropolitan Opera Company makes its nineteenth-yearly appearance in Atlanta from April 22 to 27, inclusive. Luncheons, teas, dinners and supper parties will be given in the magnificent new dining room of this popular club each day during this gala week.

Located on the second floor of the club, the dining room extends the entire length of the building with long French doors opening on to attractive roof terraces surrounded by bright green flower boxes. The exquisite interior decoration and furnishings of the spacious dining room is of the Georgian Colonial period. Adding a southern home atmosphere to the beautiful room is the Colonial fireplace at the west end of the room graced above by the club's crest. Blending with the soft green tints of the ceiling are the vivid shades of green depicting landscape scenes upon the paneled side walls. Draperies of mulberry shade offer a rich contrast for the dark green velvet floor covering and the green leather upholstered mahogany chairs. Mahogany tables of the Colonial period and glittering crystal chandeliers complete the exquisite appointments of the palatial room.

Of equal beauty is the furnishings of the adjoining lounge reached by an aisleway formed of massive white columns, so characteristic of Colonial architecture. Private dining salons connecting with the new dining room will also prove a popular rendezvous during opera week where innumerable parties will be given with prominent visitors and opera stars as honor guests.

THIS Company will pay any just claim against it voluntarily. We are glad to do it, prefer to do it. And when we go into court to resist a claim, it is because we believe in honest business judgment that the claim is not just.

Yet sometimes you run into men who take great delight in "soaking the Power Company," regardless of the facts of the case.

When they do, it costs you money. It costs your neighbors money. It costs every car rider money. For damage claims must be paid out of the only source of income the street railway has—the car rider's fare—and so are paid by the car riders, just as much as the motor-man's salary and the cost of laying track. When exorbitant damages are awarded, the car rider pays for it, either in a higher fare or by doing without needed improvements in his service.

Keep that in mind when you sit on the jury—and point it out to the man who would give the verdict in prejudice instead of in equity.

THE MEDBURY FORT MURDER

By GEORGE LIMNELLIUS

SYNOPSIS

Major Hugh Preece, of the Royal Army medical corps, has just been transferred from Bath to Fort Medbury, which is not far from London. He is about to leave his office one day to take his wife and children for a ride when Lieutenant Lapan is announced and he has to stop and examine him. The lieutenant is suffering from a mild disorder and the major writes for him. After the young officer leaves Major Preece remembers that he has seen him before under embarrassing circumstances. The visit puts the major in a peculiar mood. He recalls his first affair with Prunella Lake, an actress on the London stage; then his being sent to west Africa and his unhappiness at parting with Prunella. On his return to London Preece again meets Prunella. He asks her to marry him and she refuses. Shortly afterwards she marries Tremayne Roman. Preece marries Claire Chisholm, sister of one of his west Africa associates. A few years later Prunella and Hugh meet at London where they spend the night together. Preece remembers seeing her leave Prunella's room in the morning. A few days after Lieutenant Lapan's professional call on Major Preece, the younger officer invites the older one into his room for a night and tells him he is aware of his affair with Lady Roman. He threatens to expose him, at which Lapan laughs. As Preece leaves, Lapan asks him to come into his room. He tells Preece that he has been hearing of Lapan and the latter is pressing him for the debt. Preece goes to his own room and reads a letter from Prunella in which she asks that Lapan be written her asking to see her and she tells Preece that he must get rid of Lapan. The next morning Lapan is found dead in bed. Captain Wape, in charge of the police, calls the police. The chief police sergeant calls the police. The chief police sergeant calls the police. The chief police sergeant calls the police.

feet little fool, didn't you? He just frightened you out of your wits and you'd have told him anything, wouldn't you? Agreed to anything he chose to suggest, wouldn't you? You silly little goose!" she added, pleasantly. The ready tears sprang to Nancy Beasley's eyes; she was getting through this dreaded interview not too badly. She didn't mind being called "a silly little fool" at all, especially when her ladyship was so pleasant about it. Prying her like, she had no objection to being thought weak-minded. What she feared was the deadly venom of Lady Roman's anger. Shipping a woe-laden expression, she allowed the tears to brim over and course down her plump, rosy cheeks. Prunella rose and stood for a moment with her back to the whimpering nursery-maid, thinking. The detective had got everything out of Nancy Beasley that the little fool knew. Was there anything to be gained by conciliating her? Nothing. Very well, then, she would have it straight in the neck. Possibly from that aristocratic ancestor postulated by old Lady Roman, possibly as the result of an early introduction to a large London county council school in a southwestern suburb, Prunella, when roused, commanded considerable power of icy invective. This gift she now proposed to exercise upon the unfortunate body of Nancy Beasley. "Exactly. And now, what persuasions did the other gentleman employ to whom you told this ridiculous story? Did he threaten you? Or did he use more agreeable methods? I won't flatter you by asking if he seduced you. How dare you discuss me with your lovers' slanders in scorn. Lady Roman (though she did not know it) delivered a diatribe so extremely 18th century as to be impossible to reproduce verbatim. "... And now get out of my sight and out of the house, the sooner the better," she finished. The girl, now in a semi-hysterical condition, turned, and fumbling blindly for the door handle, fled from the room. Prunella uttered a short laugh. Nancy Beasley was, after all, poor prey for her hot fit of anger. She frowned, feeling the need of action. She glanced at the clock. The detective had left the house nearly an hour ago. It would be safe now to inquire at the railway station by which train he had gone. She pressed the bell and when Ripley appeared told him, briefly, she wanted her own two-seater brought round to the front door. While she was changing her frock she heard the crunch of wheels as the car arrested itself on the gravel drive in front of the hall door. As she adjusted the curls at the base of her temple, she examined her face carefully. Considering what trying day she had undergone, she was satisfied with the result of her scrutiny. The "crow's" feet at the corners of her eyes were, perhaps, slightly too much in evidence. The faint line where, at some future and inevitable date, a double chin would make its appearance, was ever so little more noticeable than usual. Still, on the whole, pretty good. She dabbed a powder puff over face and neck and did some rather cunning work with a lipstick. Stepping back she surveyed her image with a cheery mirror. Quite good. She liked the sort of semi-sporting frock she had put on. She had forgotten to change her stockings. Rapidly she tore them off and inserted her long, beautifully shaped legs into a pair of silk and wool stockings with a faint check pattern. They looked much better, she decided, twisting this way and that in front of the glass. The stockings went well with the countryish frock; beneath the knee-length skirt, her legs looked decidedly attractive. The car swept, with an effect of opulent power, down the drive. It purred through the park gates. Prunella swung the wheel to the right and gently pressed the accelerator. The two miles between the park and the village were covered in just under 30 seconds. The landlord of the Roman Arms was standing in the creeper-covered doorway as the car came to a standstill outside the little village inn. His little red face beamed as he hastily ambled down the front door steps in response to Prunella's beckon. Mr. Bridges had an eye for a pretty woman. He touched an imaginary hat and leaned over the door of the car. (Copyright, 1929, for The Constitution.) (Continued tomorrow.)

INSTALLMENT XXIX.

LADY ROMAN TAKES STEPS.

If Lady Roman reflected, she knew exactly how much the detective knew, she could take counter measures. It must be largely guesswork on his part. What real evidence had he obtained? Oh, could he obtain? That date—the 20th of September? From what source had he got that fact? With one of her quick, decisive movements, she placed a finger on the electric bell push, and held it there until the butler entered the room. "Ripley," she inquired, "where has Master John been this afternoon?" No sign appeared upon Ripley's impassive face to show how deeply he deprecated the insistence of the bell's clamor as he replied: "In the park, m' lady. They had their tea there, m' lady." "O yes. They're in the house now?" "Yes, m' lady." "Tell Nancy Beasley to come and see me at once, please." "Yes, m' lady." "And... Ripley, did Sir Tremayne say when he was likely to be back?" "E said 'e might dine at Mr. Neville's if he met 'im at the sale. You was not to wait dinner for 'im, m' lady." "Thank you." Lady Roman dismissed the old man with a nod. She fretted nervously about the room, picking up some trifle and putting it down again, stopping to frown thoughtfully at the photograph of her baby boy, she loathed uncertainty and inaction. With a sigh of relief, she turned swiftly as the nursery-maid slipped into the room and stood, folding, twisting and untwisting a corner of her neat white apron just within the door. Prunella's glance swept over the apprehensive figure in front of her. Nervous, vital, highly-strung, the lethargic, stolidity of country-bred woman invariably exasperated Prunella; now, the sight of this big-breasted, wide-hipped, red-faced young woman, expressing in her every clumsy movement a sort of sullen stupidity, stung Prunella to a gust of intense fury. "Nancy," in a voice robbed of every quality save that of hardness, "I wish to ask you some questions." "Yes, m' lady," the girl almost whispered. "You saw a gentleman this afternoon in the park?" "Yes, m' lady." "He questioned you—about me?" "Yes, m' lady." "And you told him?" "O, mum-m' lady, I mean... I didn't mean to talk about you to no one—outside the house, I mean—only the gentleman seemed to know already." "About what?" "About the time you went to stay at Lord Harrington's, m' lady, and I have a cousin in service there, you see, and so it appeared..." "Quite so. I stayed a night at my club in town on the way. The whole thing is a gross impertinence on this—I suppose you know?—detective's part. However, that does not concern you. Why did you not refuse to answer any questions about me?" "Well, he seemed to know such a lot, m' lady, and 'e told me I must tell the truth, the 'ole truth, and nothing but the truth, else I sh'd go to prison." "In fact, you behaved like a per-

CLUBMAN'S DEATH FROM NATURAL CAUSE

Verdict of Coroner's Jury
Surprises — Alcoholic Poisoning Shown by Autopsy.

Palm Beach, Fla., April 4.—(AP)—Death from "natural causes" was the verdict returned late today by a coroner's jury, which investigated the sudden demise early last Tuesday of A. Homer Pearson, wealthy clubman, at his fashionable winter estate near Boynton Beach, south of here.

The verdict, announced at the conclusion of a two-day inquiry into the clubman's death, came as a complete surprise to authorities, who not only had ordered the coroner's inquest, but also an autopsy. Shortly before the verdict was rendered Dr. D. M. Jarrell, bacteriologist, who performed the autopsy, submitted a formal report to the jury, stating that an examination of Pearson's vital organs showed that the immediate cause of the clubman's death was alcoholic poisoning.

In an analysis of Pearson's blood, liver, stomach and its contents, Dr. Jarrell declared he found alcoholic poisoning in quantities sufficient to cause the death of "any human being." The report was accepted by the jury without comment.

Dr. Jarrell's report stated that the analysis showed 14-100 of 1 per cent of alcohol in the blood; 18-100 of 1 per cent in the liver and 24-100 of 1 per cent in the stomach and its contents. That amount of poisoning, the report added, was sufficient to kill any person.

Before returning its verdict, the coroner's jury summoned Dr. T. D. Guiter, county physician, who made a physical examination of Pearson's body. He testified he found no marks of violence on the body.

During introduction of testimony Tuesday both Mrs. Pearson and a nurse, Miss Minnie Vincent, testified that Pearson was drunk late Monday night and that he spent more than an hour quarreling with his wife. The clubman finally was persuaded to leave Mrs. Pearson's room, stumbled and was permitted to "sleep it off" on the floor.

NORFOLK WOMAN
ATTACKED, SLAIN;
NEGRO ARRESTED

Norfolk, Va., April 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Bertha Cox, aged about 40, was criminally attacked and then choked to death by a negro in the kitchen of her home late this afternoon. Her nude body, with the head badly mutilated and throat slashed, was found lying in a pool of blood on the floor by two men who live on the second floor of the Cox home. She had been attacked while preparing supper.

Several hours later a negro who gave his name as Henry Palmer, was arrested and charged with the crime. He was identified by a wounded neighbor of the slain woman, as the negro she had seen leaving the Cox home shortly before the body was discovered. Palmer was charged with the act of burning blood-stained clothing when he was taken into custody.

GERMANS TO TALK
OVER REPARATION
PAYMENTS TODAY

Paris, April 4.—(AP)—The German delegates and the representatives of the chief reparations creditors will meet tomorrow in a private conference to confront the respective positions on the reparation problem.

A full session of the experts' committee today, which after reflection over the Easter holidays, was expected to produce some tangible result, brought forth only this decision.

While on the surface this meeting seems a simple matter of routine, among observers of the conference it is thought that much may be found by reading between the lines. In some quarters it is believed the experts are reaching the final stage of their work and that if no definite propositions are forthcoming from the Germans, the matter will be taken in hand by leaders of the committee with a view to forcing a decision on figures they themselves will propose.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the German negotiator, replied to a memorandum adopted at the last session with a series of questions of his own. The representatives of the creditor nations, it is expected, will answer these questions at tomorrow's meeting.

ATACHALAYA LEVEE
Breaks, Flooding
Large Territory

St. Martinville, La., April 4.—(AP)—Two hundred families residing along the Atchafalaya river between Port Barre and Catahoula lake today watched flood waters creep toward their homes as the result of a levee break early this morning.

The sheriff's office here estimated that an area 12 miles long and two miles wide planted in cotton, corn, potatoes and sugar cane would be flooded. It was understood the families planned to leave their homes immediately. No fear was felt for their safety.

A few hours after the crevasse occurred it reached 100 feet by tonight. This section was inundated by the 1927 flood and the families were forced to evacuate. The water at that time reached a depth of 10 feet in some places, but it was not believed the present flood would be that serious.

Before becoming professor of law in Columbia, Mr. Michael was connected with the United States department of justice. He was called to that post by Supreme Court Justice Harlan, Fiske Stone, who was at that time attorney-general of the United States. Mr. Michael was one of Justice Stone's students at Columbia law school when the latter was dean of that institution.

Before leaving Athens for New York Mr. Michael practiced law in Athens. At one time he was city attorney of Athens.

3 NEGROES ARE TRIED FOR COFFEE SLAYING

Grove Hill, Ala., April 4.—(AP)—With Judge J. T. Bedsole presiding, the joint trial of three negro wood-choppers, charged with the slaying of C. C. Coffey, 75, of Mobile, on Armistice Day last November while he was hunting in the vicinity of Hals Lake, Clarke county, got under way here at noon today, with State Solicitor Bart B. Chamberlin, of Mobile, conducting the direct examination.

The state is asking the death penalty in the trial of the trio of negro loggers, Jerry York, Carson Lewis and Bill Long.

H. N. Stevens, a Mobile merchant, and organizer of the hunting party of which Coffey was a member when he is thought to have been slain by the negroes for his Moonsie ring and new shotgun, was the first witness called. Asked if he had ever known of Coffey having disappeared at any previous time, Stevens replied in the negative.

Robert E. Davidson, of Mobile, with whom Coffey lived prior to the hunting trip, stated that he was unaware of any such happening and identified a pocket knife found near the scene of his disappearance as having belonged to Coffey. He could not vouch for Coffey wearing it on the day he disappeared.

GRAVES PLEASED WITH FLOOD AID
AFTER APPEAL

Montgomery, Ala., April 4.—(AP)—Results of his appeal for federal aid in Alabama's flood rehabilitation program have been more gratifying than he anticipated, Governor Bibb Graves stated today on his return from Washington.

The governor was accompanied to Montgomery by United States Senator Hugo Black, of Alabama, who left immediately for a personal survey of flood areas.

"I sensed everywhere a cordial desire to extend every federal agency, in so far as the law will permit, to relieve the situation," Governor Graves said.

"I feel assured of federal aid to an extent of 50 per cent in repair and reconstruction of federal aid road and bridges. I was assured that a portion of the $60,000,000 loan fund appropriated by congress for seed, feed and fertilizers will be made available for putting this year's crops.

"Officials of the intermediate credit bank stated that they would extend its facilities to the Alabama flood sufferers through its New Orleans branch.

"Engineers of the war department are preparing to make surveys immediately looking to control of future floods in the state."

OIL PRODUCTION PLAN URGED PUT IN EFFECT ANYHOW

New York, April 4.—(AP)—Despite the intimation by Attorney-General Mitchell that the American Petroleum Institute's crude production curtailment program may violate the Sherman anti-trust law, R. C. Holmes, chairman of the institute's general committee on production, said today that he would recommend that the plan be carried out without delay.

Mr. Holmes, who is president of the Texas corporation, said he would recommend to the general committee and the institute's regional committees that "we carry on without delay, as we have planned to do, in whatever ways and in every way that is open to us to do properly, and if by chance we are held to be acting in restraint of trade, leave it to the courts to determine whether such restraint is in the public interest or not."

Coming to Erlanger.

No mystery melodrama ever written can quite compare with "The Trial of Mary Dugan," which comes to the Erlanger theater next Monday night, for one week, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday, presented by a superb company, headed by that sterling actor, Robert Williams, "The Trial of Mary Dugan," has to its credit more than a year on Broadway, as well as runs in London, Berlin, Paris, Melbourne, Australia, and other foreign centers. Seats are now on sale at the Erlanger box office and at Phillips & Crew Piano Co.

Atlanta.

The strange and poignant love affair between a flit in a small southern town and the village ne'er-do-well forms the basis of the plot of "Coquette," which will be presented all next week at the Atlanta theater by the Fulenwider all-star players. "Coquette" was released for stock production only two weeks ago following the conclusion of a long New York run. It will serve the local stock company.

Keith's Georgia.

Keith's Georgia offers the theatergoers of Atlanta this week Paramount's all-talking drama, "Chinatown Nights," with Wallace Berry, Florence Vidor and Warner Oland. The picture was taken from the story "Tong War," Mr. Berry gives a very fine performance in the role of "Chuck Riley," the white boss of Chinatown. He is ably assisted by Miss Vidor and Warner Oland. A diversified bill of Keith vaudeville boasts of two headline acts completes the show.

Loew's Capitol.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first all-talking picture, "Broadway Melody," is being featured at Loew's Capitol this week, to the exclusion of the vaudeville program which ordinarily supplements the screen attraction. The magnitude of "Broadway Melody" makes it advisable to give it the right of way over everything else. Anita Page, Hattie Love and Charles King, an importation from London, and a star on Broadway, are the featured artists, but the spectacular and elaborate reproduction of Broadway theatrical affairs is perhaps the most entertaining angle of the picture.

Rialto.

An important clue to aid those who see "The Canary Murder Case" at the Rialto theater was given by William Powell, who heads the cast as Philo Vance, S. S. Van Dine's famous fictional detective. "The guilty person or persons need not be looked for among minor members of the cast," Powell divulged. "Authors and directors of detective stories consider that a cheap trick to play on an audience. The guilt should be fastened among the principal players. I would not, in the interest of good sportsmanship, go so far as to give more clues, but I am perfectly within my rights in handing out this tip."

Metropolitan.

Corinne Griffith in "The Divine Lady" is scoring an unusual triumph this week at the Metropolitan. The picture is easily one of the most pretentious efforts the screen has made. On the stage Jack Richards and Billy Church, former stars of Al Fields Minstrels, appear in several singing numbers with their own arrangement. Also on the stage are Charley White's Jolly Jazzers band.

Loew's Grand.

"The Flying Fleet," starring Ramon Novarro, is the featured attraction at Loew's Grand for the last half of the week, along with current newsreels and sound subjects included on the bill. An air battle high above the clouds, an airplane falling in flames, the wreck of a huge flying craft in mid-ocean, and spectacular parachute jump are some of the high spots in the picture.

Cameo.

James Oliver Curwood has for several years been recognized in literary circles as the most vivid and graphic writer of tales dealing with the picturesque and the life of Canada's great north country and the loggers and trappers who wrest a living from them. All of his novels have been filmed with success by his latest, "The Yellow-Back," a story of the Royal Northwest Mounted police, comes to the Cameo today to remain through Saturday.

made from the picture appears Clinton Lyle, noted stage actor, whom Chaney turned into pictures in the new romance of the New York underworld.

Empire.

Colleen Moore, brilliant comedienne of the screen, is featured in "Synthetic Sin" at the Empire theater, corner Georgia avenue and Crew street today, while amateur night will be featured on the stage at the night performance. Manager Alpha Fowler will present a number of valuable prizes to the amateur performers on the stage who are adjudged the most popular.

Tenth Street.

William Haines' latest picture, "The Famous Valentine," made from the famous stage play and with talking sequences will be shown for the last time today at the Tenth-Street theater. William Haines supported by Karl Dane and Tully Marshall form the greatest trio of laughs makers that the screen has ever witnessed. There's fun, drama and action galore in this great crook play.

Ponce de Leon.

A capacity audience, the largest seen at a neighborhood playhouse, greeted the opening at the Ponce de Leon theater of "Wings," Adolph Zukor's and Jesse Lasky's tribute to the war, the service performed in the World War. Imagine a sky filled with planes whose pilots are engaged in duels. Ship at sea, plunges head on at each other. Aviators do loop-the-loops, barrel rolls, falling leafs and Immelmans by the score.

Injunction Order

Given 6 'Butter Substitute' Firms

Augusta, Ga., April 4.—(P)—A temporary injunction restraining Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, and George M. Napier, attorney-general, from proceeding against the sale of certain "butter substitutes" in the state was granted in federal district court here today by Judge William H. Barrett on the petition of the manufacturers who attacked the constitutionality of the state pure food and drugs law.

The order made returnable in United States district court here May 13, restrains Commissioner Talmadge and Attorney-General Napier from any action based on the conclusions reached by them after hearings on the products. The order specifically restrains the commissioner from confiscation of the products, prosecution of manufacturers, jobbers and retailers and from sending derogatory statements to dealers or printing the same in market bulletins or giving them to newspapers. The proceedings were brought by six manufacturers of products alleged by the commissioner of agriculture to be "misbranded, deceptive and adulterated" under the state pure food and drugs law.

Commissioner Talmadge was ordered to show cause at the May 13 hearing why a permanent injunction should not be issued for final prohibition of further interference with the sale of the products.

Three federal judges, one of them a judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, will sit at the hearing, as required by a recent act regarding cases where the constitutionality of a law is involved.

"JIMMY VALENTINE"

CROWDS THEATER AT TENTH STREET

Following installation of apparatus for sound and talking pictures at the Tenth-Street theater by Manager Frank Harris, capacity crowds Thursday attended the showing of "Jimmy Valentine," starring William Haines, which is produced with the original music score and all talking sequences.

"Jimmy Valentine," which plays also today at the Tenth-Street, is the talking picture version of the famous story of a reformed safecracker is called upon to betray himself and risk imprisonment to save the life of his fiancée's little sister who is locked in a huge vault. The film has a stirring talking sequence near the close.

EXCHANGE CLUB

AT CEDARTOWN BANQUETS RUSK

(Cedartown, Ga., April 4.—(Special).—Harold Rusk, of Cedartown, of the Georgia Tech football team, and Morgan Blake, sports editor of the Atlanta Journal, were guests of honor at a banquet given by the Exchange Club of Cedartown Thursday night.

"Cedartown Rusk," as he is known at Tech, came home last night to a welcome such as is accorded only to returning heroes and a cordiality shown him by his fellow townsmen seemed to touch the heart of the big athlete.

The membership of the Exchange Club is composed of Cedartown's younger business men, many of whom were classmates of Captain Rusk at Cedartown High school and in the Chattahoochee river at Austin ferry.

Charley Brumby and Vance Marce were also guests.

Duke of Gloucester

Rejoins His Vessel En Route to Japan

Suez, Egypt, April 4.—(P)—The Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George, of England, rejoined the liner "Morocco" today after a short visit at Cairo. He is en route to Japan.

CHILD, AGED 6, DROWNS

N E A R DOUGLASSVILLE

Douglasville, Ga., April 4.—(Special).—The 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Banks, prominent farmer and operator of a ferry on the Chattahoochee river at Austin ferry, was drowned tonight.

The child was playing on the bank of the river and toppled into the water. Her father, seeing the girl in distress, ran and dove in after her. She had sunk, however, and Mr. Banks nearly lost his life in efforts to reach her. The child's body has not been recovered up to a late hour tonight.

INVESTORS IN FLORIDA

LAND SEEK $1,450,000

Suit Filed Against Officers of Mizner Corporation for Recovery of Funds.

New York, April 4.—(P)—Ninety-three investors in the proposed $100,000,000 realty development of Boca Raton, Fla., today filed suit in supreme court to recover $1,450,000 from officers of the Mizner Development Corporation, sponsor of the project.

Among the plaintiffs are Maximilian Morganthau, son of the former ambassador to Turkey, and Douglas Cairns, of Miami and New York, who charged with others that T. Coleman Du Pont, former senator from Delaware; Jesse L. Livermore, Wall Street operator, and 10 others of the corporation conspired to inflate Boca Raton value.

Although the corporation went into involuntary bankruptcy in May, 1927, with assets of $50,000, the complaint charges that the project netted $9,000,000 in sales after it received the backing of social and financial leaders.

The complaint says the development program, which called for a hotel, yacht canals, aviation fields, theaters and night clubs, was merely a scheme to sell lots at prices in excess of their value.

Du Pont and Livermore were directors and members of the finance committee of the corporation. Other defendants are Addison Mizner, president; Wilson Mizner, secretary, and George S. Graham, Ward A. Wickwire, directors.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETS

Improvements Discussed at Clifton-McLendon Session.

Discussion of various civic improvements proposed for the section featured the program Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Clifton-McLendon Civic League held at the Clifton Presbyterian church, with a number of city councilmen and other officials present.

Councilmen Raleigh Drennon and Jack Savage spoke on various civic enterprises of the section including Candler park and the opening up of North avenue. W. D. Correll presided at the meeting. The next meeting will be held April 25, it was decided at the meeting Thursday night. Refreshments were served.

CHINESE REBELS

COLLAPSE BEFORE NATIONALIST FORCE

Hankow, China, April 4.—(P)—The Wuhan armies, which have been opposing the advance of the nationalist government troops on Hankow, collapsed today and were retreating on all fronts.

The Wuhan general commanding the Hwang-Pei sector has gone over to the Nanking government, thereby permitting Nanking troops to penetrate the defense line of the Wuhan forces. Wuhan troops are retreating in confusion. Panic reigns in the Chinese city at Hankow.

Refugees streamed into the foreign concessions area. Martial law has been proclaimed.

MERCHANT, WIFE AND DAUGHTER, 4, ARE FOUND SLAIN

Kennansville, N. C., April 4.—(P)—Adrian Groves, elderly merchant, his wife and their four-year old adopted daughter were found shot to death today in their home at Magnolia, a Duplin county town near here. After an investigation a coroner's jury decided that Groves had killed the other two and then committed suicide.

Groves was a well-to-do merchant at Magnolia for many years but it was said he had recently suffered financial reverse. The tragedy was discovered when neighbors investigated to ascertain why his store did not open for business as usual this morning. A .38-caliber revolver was found near his body.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

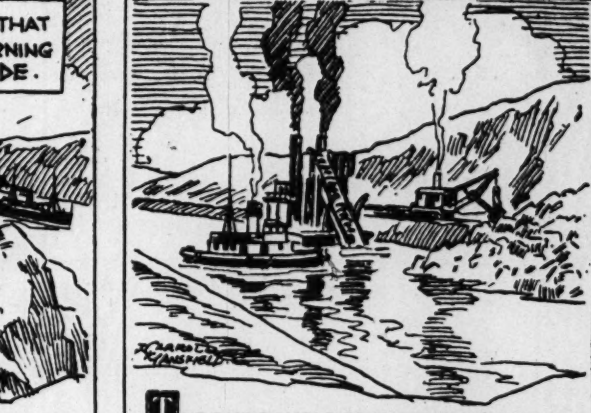

IN 1912, BEFORE THE PANAMA CANAL WAS COMPLETED, CONGRESS PASSED AN ACT GRANTING AMERICAN COASTWISE VESSELS THE PRIVILEGE OF USING THE CANAL FREE OF CHARGE. ENGLAND PROTESTED, CLAIMING THAT THIS VIOLATED THE HAY-PANCOFF TREATY OF 1901, WHICH SAID THAT SHIPS OF ALL NATIONS SHOULD BE TREATED ALIKE.

The Story of the Panama Canal—Part 23. Controversy With England—Slides.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE WORST TROUBLE WITH THE CANAL HAS COME FROM DESTRUCTIVE LANDSLIDES. CULEBRA CUT IS MENACED BY THIS DANGER, WHICH UP TO JULY, 1919, HAD CLOSED THE CANAL TO NAVIGATION FOR A TOTAL OF 242 DAYS AND COST $10,000,000 TO REPAIR THE DAMAGE.

THE BANKS LIABLE TO SLIDES ARE GRADUALLY BEING CUT DOWN. SAFETY BASINS HAVE BEEN DUG TO CATCH THE DEBRIS, AND IN THE COURSE OF TIME THE DANGERS OF SLIDES WILL HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED. THE SLIDES USUALLY OCCUR DURING THE DRY SEASON.

Increasing Offerings of Call Money Add Rally in Stock Market After Ragged Opening Sales.

New York, April 4.—Stocks opened ragged, sold off in the early trading, and then recovered. The stock market was helped by increasing offerings of call money, with the renewal rate on the stock exchange floor 10 per cent the same as yesterday but with money on the outside market offered freely at 8.

The rate on the floor dropped to 8 in the last hour. Sentiment was also helped by the statement from Secretary Mellon that the federal reserve meetings at Washington which have lasted throughout the week were only routine with no action anticipated bearing on the financial situation. This was understood by Wall Street to mean that there would be no change in the rediscount rate here at the weekly meeting after the close of the stock market.

Informed Wall Street believes that these connected subjects have been upmost in this week's conference at Washington between members of the federal reserve board and the 12 reserve bank governors. Credit, the stock market, repatriation payment, the 12 federal reserve banks would play an important part in the marketing here of $500,000,000 German repatriation bonds, using the same machinery constructed in marketing our government war bonds.

Reese's Talks. President Reese, of the American Petroleum Institute, which sponsored the crude oil curtailment plan, acting on a ruling of Attorney-General Mitchell, declined to approve, has this to say: "We believe the statement made by the attorney-general will not have the effect of stopping the curtailment movement," adding "inasmuch as the movement is carried on in each state under the legal authority of each state, we believe with Judge Ames (general counsel for the Texas Company and counsel for the American Petroleum Institute), that we are not doing anything in restraint of trade."

What Reese means is that the curtailment plan is going to be carried out. It is true, however, the question arises as to what all the talk now being heard is about.

Letter Explains. To find the answer to that question it is necessary to go back to the letter written to the federal oil conservation board by President Reese outlining the crude oil curtailment plan and concluding with "The future welfare and prosperity of the nation may depend on the success of this movement. We cannot hope to succeed in our efforts without the continued help and cooperation of government agencies and the institution would not wish to continue its activity without the approval of the federal oil conservation board. We therefore request the approval plan by the federal oil conservation board. The reply on a ruling of Attorney-General Mitchell, declined to approve, has this to say: "We believe the statement made by the attorney-general will not have the effect of stopping the curtailment movement," adding "inasmuch as the movement is carried on in each state under the legal authority of each state, we believe with Judge Ames (general counsel for the Texas Company and counsel for the American Petroleum Institute), that we are not doing anything in restraint of trade."

What Reese means is that the curtailment plan is going to be carried out. It is true, however, the question arises as to what all the talk now being heard is about.

munity from the anti-trust laws. The net of the whole situation that is other meeting of nation-wide oil producers has been called by the American Petroleum Institute for April 24 to reconsider the whole problem of conservation and overproduction.

Usually well informed oil men here in Wall Street in private talks are expressing the belief that the legal impediment in oil was created by oil company lawyers who were attempting to use the existing serious overproduction situation to get their toe in the door in a movement to have the Sherman act repealed as far as the oil industry is concerned, but the President Hoover, in view of some of the recent scandals in the oil industry, was not willing to let the widespread criticism of advancing oil prices with the administration the case each having approved the crude oil curtailment plan as requested by the American Petroleum Institute.

President Hoover stated today that the industry will go ahead to avoid conflict with the Sherman act, which applies only to interstate operations. Today's statement by Hoover, however, does not stop the state movement outlining the curtailment plan to the federal oil conservation board, which concluded that the statement that approval of the plan by the federal oil conservation board was absolutely necessary for success.

In view of the foregoing, it is not strange that oil men here in Wall Street in private talks today are asking the question: "What is the end result of this?" So far this question has remained unanswered.
